J. M. Vergara y Vergara, in his "Historia de la literatura en Nueva Granada," 1867, p. 92, lists a Madrid, 1647, edition, which Medina considers doubtful. A. Palau y Dulcet in his "Manual del librero hispano-americano," vol. 6, 1926, says that it has been suggested that "el Bachiller D. Pedro Solis y Valenzuela" was Juan Eusebio Nieremberg. This also is doubted by Medina.

The entry in Medina is taken from the engraved title page which has a briefer title beginning: "D. Philippo. IV. | Hispaniarvm, et In- | diarum, Regi. Opt. Max. |"

Pp. 52, 499, 590, 594, and 746 are mispaged respectively 58, 449, 950, 592, and 747. 100 engraved vignettes are included in the text.

Nicolas Antonio, in "Bibliotheca Hispana Nova," vol. 1, 1783, p. 781, gives a brief title of a 1655 edition, which is evidently a mistake for that of 1653, not included by him.

A few references to a Madrid, 1651, edition have been found, but these copies probably lacked the engraved title, the date being supplied from the notices of censorship and licensing on the preliminary leaves, all but one of which are dated in 1651.

Medina, in his "Biblioteca hispano-americana," vol. 7, 1907, describes a copy with the autograph signature of D. Juan de Solórzano Pereira, and dates it in the seventeenth century. It was probably issued before the author's death in 1655.

"Fictitious letters, signed 'Ezekiel Gobble and co.' and 'General Snap, Colonel Trap.'"

The title of the New York edition differs from the others only in the first sentence, which reads "and the natives of Old England" instead of "and the natives of this country."

Cover title of the Cincinnati edition: "Correspondence with the Inhabitants of the Moon." According to the verso of the title of this edition there were 125 copies printed on small paper, 25 for libraries and editors, and 25 on large paper. Title and information supplied by Ernest Kletsch. According to the "American Biblioplist," vol. 2, 1870, p. 117, "This edition consists of 132 small-paper copies, octavo, finely printed on tinted paper . . . 27 large-paper copies, also on tinted paper . . ."

Some Account of some of the Bloody Deeds of Gen. Jackson.
[n. p. n. d.] Folio broadside, illustrated with cuts of coffins, etc.

H. 86569

This is apparently a facsimile of a sheet used in the campaign of 1828. The text consists of "A brief account of the Execution of the Six Militia Men," and four other accounts of Jackson's murderous temper, questioning whether he is "a fit person to be our President." At the foot Colonel Thomas Hart Benton prints a letter signed by himself, dated Franklin, Tenn., September 10, 1818, containing a statement regarding an attack by Jackson and his friends on Benton and his brother. Title and information from G. P. Winship.

Bassett in his "Life of Andrew Jackson," 1916, p. 393, states that in this campaign the "execution of mutinous militiamen in the campaigns of 1813 and 1814 was recalled to show his ferocious temper; and when a Philadelphia editor published a hand-bill showing a coffin with the victims standing by its side, the idea was caught up eagerly and repeated in all parts of the country." See also our note on no. 35391, vol. 9.

Some Account of the Designs of the | Trustees for establishing the Colony | of Georgia in America. | [London. 1732.] Folio,
pp. 4. BM., JCB. 86573

Caption title, supplied by Dorothy Watts. This edition, of which there are two issues, is without title page, imprint or date. It has a conventional headpiece. It evidently precedes the dated edition with the title page, entered below, because the map found in one of its issues is an earlier state of the same one that is included in the dated issue.

The tract was written for use in connection with the soliciting of subscriptions, by Benjamin Martyn, the Secretary of the Trustees, as is shown by the following extract from the Diary of the Earl of Egmont, president of that body, published by the Historical Manuscripts Commission, vol. 1, 1920, p. 289: "Thursday, 3 August. [1732.] . . . We also directed that Mr. Martin's short account of the design of the Georgia Colony and the advantages accruing from it to England should be printed, with the names of the trustees at the end of it, as receivers of the gifts that shall be made."

The first issue of this undated edition, of which there are copies at JCB. and BM., has the lower part of p. 4 blank.

The second issue, of which there is a copy in the De Renne library, Wormsloe, Georgia, has on the lower part of p. 4, a map. The source of this map is stated by Verner W. Crane in his contribution to "Bibliographical Essays," 1924, p. 288, to be the Nairne inset in Crisp's "Compleat Description of Carolina," [1711]. The plate as originally engraved followed the Nairne map more closely than the later impressions would indicate at first glance. A careful examination reveals signs of the erasure of inscriptions which can be identified with legends on the Carolina map. The map in the De Renne issue has inscriptions on the map of Florida which have been erased from the plate before the printing of the state used in the dated edition of the tract. See L. L. Mackall in Am. Hist. Rev., vol. 30, 1925, pp. 305-306, also his notes on this tract in the De Renne Catalogue, 1931, and facsimile of the map there included.

Some | Account | of the | Designs | of the | Trustees | For Establishing the Colony of | Georgia | in | America. | London, |
Printed in the Year MDCCXXXII. Folio, pp. (2), 4. Engraved
map. BM., JCB. 86574

This edition has an elaborate headpiece, J. Pine Inv. & Sculpt. which shows the building of Savannah, and the plan of the town. There is also a tailpiece signed by Pine. The map and the title page are part of the same sheet. Inscriptions on the Florida part of the map, found in the second issue of the previous edition, have been erased from the copper plate. This state of the map is the same as that which appears in Samuel Smith's "Sermon," 1733, and in the three editions of Martyn's "Reasons," 1733. A facsimile is in the De Renne Catalogue, 1931, following the "Sermon."

The JCB. copy has on the originally blank last leaf, a warrant, in manuscript, authorizing Samuel Wesley "to take Subscriptions & to gather & collect such Moneys as shall be by any Person or Persons contributed . . . Given under our common Seal this Sixteenth Day of November 1732." There is a drawing of the seal, followed by the note, "Examined this 27th. of Nov. 1732 with the Original by Us Maur Johnson Junior W Brand."

According to V. W. Crane's contribution in "Bibliographical Essays," 1924, p. 288, a blank engraved commission, identical with the above manuscript, is bound with the British Museum copies of the two editions of "Some Account."

The account was reprinted in the "South-Carolina Gazette," nos. 46 and 47, Dec. 2 and 9, 1732.

Other reprints are in Samuel Smith's "Sermon," 1733, with the map; in pp. 4-8 of "A Brief Account of the Establishment of the Colony of Georgia," published by Peter Force in 1835, and later issued by him as no. 2 of the collected Tracts, vol. 1, 1836, being taken with the rest of that piece from articles which had been published in the "South-Carolina Gazette," from Nov. 1732, to July, 1733; in "Transactions of the American Historical Society," 1839, no. 2, also contributed by Force; and (a reprint, without acknowledgment, from Force) in "American Colonial Tracts," vol. 1, no. 2, 1897, pp. 4-8. See L. L. Mackall on the "Source of Force's Tract," in Amer. Hist. Rev., vol. 30, 1925, pp. 304-308.

Improved title of our no. 7143, vol. 2.

On verso of title: "The Publick having been lately entertained with a very dark and partial Account of this New Method of receiving the Small Pox; and this Account being given as is pretended, from the very Letters of Dr. Timonius and Pylarinus; it is thought reasonable and fitting to lay before the Publick this following Abstract . . . But because the Gentleman who only hath these letters by him, refuses now to lend them; the Account here following is chiefly taken from a known Letter written by a Learned Gentleman of Boston to the Worthy Physicians of the Town." In Cotton Mather's Diary under date of Aug. 4, 1721, is the following: "I will allow the persecuted Physician, to publish my Communications from the Levant, about the Small-Pox, and supply him with some further Armour, to conquer the Dragon." For an account of this work and of the manuscript Address from which it was partly taken, see Kittredge's "Some Lost Works of Cotton Mather," in Mass. Hist. Soc. "Proceedings," vol. 45, 1912, pp. 419-440.

HEH. + [Same imprint.] M,DCC,L. 8vo, pp. 16. P. + [Same imprint and date.] 8vo, pp. 24. NYH. 86592

The date on the first issue was incorrect, since the "Letter," our no. 40289, vol. 10, and the "Reply," our no. 69681, vol. 17, were not printed until 1750. The last issue of "Some Animadversions" listed above contains an appendix, pp. 17-24, dated "Perth-Amboy, Dec. 8, 1750," which begins: "The following Letter and Piece of History, coming to my Hands since the Publication of the Animadversions upon the Reply, containing many Facts fully confuting several Aspersions of the Author of that Reply. I thought it a Piece of Justice due to the Publick to annex them as an Appendix to the Animadversions."

SOMERS [(John Somers)], Baron, b. 1651, d. 1716. The Judgment of | Whole Kingdoms and Nations, | Concerning the | Rights, Power, and Prerogative | of | Kings, | and the | Rights, Priviledges, and Properties | of the | People: | Shewing | The Nature of Government in general, both from | God and Man. An Account of the British Go- | vernment; and the Rights and Priviledges of | the People in the Time of the Saxons, and since the Con- | quest. The Government which God ordain'd over the Children | of Israel; and that all Magistrates and Governors proceed from | the People, by many Examples in Scripture and History; and the | Duty of Magistrates from Scripture and Reason. An Account | of Eleven Emperors, and above Fifty Kings depriv'd for their | evil Government. The Right of the People and Parliament of | Britain, to Resist and Deprive their Kings for | evil Government, by King Henry's Charter; and likewise in Scotland, | by many Examples. | The Prophets and ancient Jews were Strangers to absolute Pas- | sive-Obedience. Resisting of Arbitrary Government | is allow'd by many Examples in Scripture; by most Nations; and | by undeniable Reason. | A large Account of the Revolution; with several | Speeches, Declarations, and Addresses; and the Names and | Proceedings of Ten Bishops, and above Sixty Peers, concern'd | in the Revolution before King James went out of England. | Several Declarations in Queen Elizabeth's Time of the Clergy | in Convocation, and the Parliament | who assisted, and justified the Scotch, French, and

Dutch, in Re- | sisting of their Evil and Destructive Princes. | By
 Lord Sommers. | The Eleventh Edition Corrected. | Philadelphia: |
Re-printed, and sold by John Dunlap, | in Market Street. |
 M.DCC.LXXIII. | 8vo, pp. 128, 130-156, advertisement (1).

AAS., BA., HSP., JCB., M., NYH., NYP., P., WLC. 86795

The first edition published in London in 1709 had the title: "Vox Populi; Vox Dei; being True Maxims of Government." The second edition, London, 1710, was similar in title to the above.

In spite of the fact that Somers' name appears on the title pages of some of the editions, J. M. Rigg in DNB. doubts the authenticity of the attribution.

Lowndes in his "Bibliographer's Manual" included the tract in the list of Defoe's writings, and the titles of this and the following editions are improved from our entries under that author, see no. 19280, vol. 5. He also stated that the work had been ascribed to John Dunton, and erroneously, to Somers. William Lee does not include the work in the careful chronological list of Defoe's writings prefixed to his "Daniel Defoe: his Life, and recently discovered Writings," 1869, and remarks that Lowndes "seems to have accumulated all the errors" of other students of that author.

A reprint of the above was published by Arthur W. Dow in 1880. AAS., M.

A | Song, | Composed by the British Butchers, after the Fight | at Bunker-Hill, on the Seventeenth of June, 1775. | [Chelmsford? 1775.] Broadside. 86877

Title from a photostat in NYP. May have been printed by N. Coverly at Chelmsford in 1775. See Ford's "Broad-sides," 1922, no. 1933, and AAS. "Proceedings," new ser. vol. 33, p. 51.

A | Song, | Composed by the British Soldiers, after the Battle | at Bunker-Hill, on the 17th of June, 1775. | [Boston. 1775.] Folio broadside. B. 86878

Evans includes in his imprint, Printed at Draper's Printing Office. Possibly this was because the Drapers were Loyalists. There are only slight verbal differences between this and the "Yankee" editions preceding.

Other editions as follows:

Battle of | Bunker Hill. | This Song was composed by the British, | after the engagement. | [Boston? 177?] Folio broadside. AAS. This edition has a cut to the left of the title.

Battle of Bunker Hill, | This Song was composed by the British, after the engagement. | [Boston? 177?] Folio broadside. AAS.

Battle of Bunker Hill. This Song was composed by the British, after the engagement. [Between two columns of stanzas:] —Songs— by the Gross or Single, constantly for sale by N. Coverly, corner of Theatre Alley, Boston, April 2d, 1811. 4to broadside. B.

Wegelin lists the following broadside in his "Early American Poetry," vol. 1, 1930, no. 499: Battle of Bunker Hill, Composed by a British Officer the day after the Battle, June 17, 1775. Sold by Leonard Deming, Middlebury, Vt. [Circa 1830.]

Battle of Bunker Hill. Composed by a British Officer, the day after the Battle, June 17, 1775. [Between two columns of stanzas:] Sold, wholesale and retail, by L. Deming, No. 62, Hanover Street, 2d door from Friend Street, Boston. [1835?] Small broadside. AAS. Deming appears at this address in the Boston directories for the years 1832–1836. His edition varies considerably from the contemporary ones, being altered to have a Yankee flavor.

A Song, composed by the British Soldiers, after the fight at Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775. Lockwood, Brooks & Co., 381 Washington St., Boston. [1876?] Folio broadside.

AAS., B., M. 86879

It seems probable that this reprint was issued about the time of the centennial. The publishers were at the above address in that year.

A Song composed for the Fraternity of Steuben | Lodge, No. 18, Newburgh, by G—— H—— S——. | January 18, 1791. | Tune —— "God save the King." | 4to broadside. 86880

Title from Wegelin, no. 780.

A Song composed in the Year | Seventy Five. | Transfer'd to 1812. | "Tune the World turn'd upside down."  Printed by Nathaniel Coverly, Jun'r. Corner Theatre-Alley. | [Boston. 1812.] Narrow folio broadside. AAS., M. 86881

A Song, composed on the cause and progress, of the late American War. Weathersfield: Printed for Itinerant Booksellers. 1816. 12mo, pp. 22 +. WATKINSON 86882

The copy in the Watkinson library ends on p. 22 in the fourth line of the 55th stanza. Probably printed at Weathersfield, Vt., not at Weathersfield, Conn. Information from Wilberforce Eames.

A Song, | composed on the Evacuation of Boston by the British Troops, | commanded by | General Howe: | Who were panic struck, and thrown into the utmost confusion, at the appearance of General Washington, | With a Detachment of the American Army, who in one night, (unexpectedly to the Britons,) | erected strong Breast-Works, with heavy Cannon pointed at the Men of War, | then lying in the Harbour. | Printed by N. Coverly, jun.

Corner Theatre | Alley. | [Boston. 1812?] 4to broadside.

AAS., M. 86883

Coverly was first located on Milk Street at the corner of Theatre Alley in 1810. This was one of a collection of broadsides presented to AAS. by Isaiah Thomas in 1814, so must have been printed sometime between 1810 and 1814.

A Song, dedicated to the Colored Volunteer. [At foot of sheet:]
Published by the Supervisory Committee for Recruiting Colored Regiments. [n. p. 186-?] Broadside. HSP. 86884

 Broadside. NYP. 86889

Also on the same sheet: "A Song made upon the foregoing | Occasion. | According to the "New-York Weekly Journal" for November 25, 1734, these are the two "Virulent, Scandalous and Seditious Songs or Ballads," which the Supreme Court of New York on October 19th, "Ordered . . . [to] be burnt before the City-Hall, . . . by the hands of the common Hang-man, or Whipper, on . . . 21st of this Instant." It is stated in the same issue of the Weekly Journal that "the above Order of the Supream Court was put in Execution." See also L. Rutherford's "John Peter Zenger,"

Song of Washington. [n. p. 1778?] Small broadside.

HEH. 86893

Title supplied by Willard O. Waters. Approximate date conjectured from the text, which refers to Burgoyne's surrender in October, 1777, but does not mention the American victory at Yorktown in 1781.

. . . A Song | on the Remarkable Resurrection of above One Hundred and Fifty Thousand | Pounds Sterling in Dollars and
English Copper-Half-Pence, which have | lain bury'd for many Months, attended with a strong Guard of Watchmen. | To the
Tune of Jack the Piper, or any other that suits. | [Boston. 1750.]
Broadside. 86894

With heading: "Boston, April 2, 1750." Title from Wegelin, no. 783.

A Song, | On the Surrendery of General Burgoyne, | Who gave up his whole Army to the brave General Gates, of glorious Memory, | October 17, 1777. | [n. p. 1777.] Broadside. NYP. 86895

Included by Ford in his "Broadsides . . . printed in Massachusetts." Evans lists a broadside with the same title as published by Hudson and Goodwin in Hartford in 1779. An examination of the file in AAS. of the "Connecticut Courant" for that year, shows no advertisement of a song with that title. However, in the issues of September 28 and October 5, appears the following:

Just published, and to be Sold by the Printers hereof, Burgoyne's Surrendery, a Poem, entitled Grateful Reflections on the divine Goodness vouchsaf'd to the American Arms in their remarkable Successes in the Northern Department, after the giving up of our Fortresses at Ticonderoga, on the 6th of July, A.D. 1777. With some Account of the Battles fought and the Transactions of that memorable campaign, occasioned by the surrendery of the King's Forces by Lieutenant General Burgoyne to Major General Gates, on the 23d Day of October, in said Year.

chant. | Together with | The Female Drummer.  N. Coverly,
Jr. Printer, Milk-street, Boston. [1812?] 4to broadside.
AAS., B., M. 86899

According to the Boston directories, Coverly was first located at Milk-street in 1810. This is one of a collection of broadsides presented to AAS. by Isaiah Thomas in 1814, so it must have been printed sometime between 1810 and 1814.

Songs and Ballads of Freedom. A Choice Collection: inspired by the incidents and scenes of the present war. J. F. Feeks, publisher, No. 26 Ann street, N. Y. [cop. 1864.] 16mo, pp. 48.

Songs for the Nursery, collected from the works of the most renowned poets and adapted to favorite melodies. Carlisle: Printed by Archibald Loudon. 1812. 18mo, pp. 72. AAS. 86916

Songs for the Nursery: or, Mother Goose's Melodies for Children. Printed by T. Fleet, at his printing-house, Pudding Lane, 1719. Price, two coppers. 86917

A doubtful title from an article in the "Boston Transcript" for January 14, 1860, signed "Requiescat," but written by John Fleet Eliot, a descendant of Thomas Fleet, the alleged printer of the above. Eliot claimed that the original Mother Goose was Elizabeth Vergoose or Goose, the mother-in-law of Fleet and his marriage to "Eliza. Goose" on June 8, 1715, appears in the records of Boston Marriages as printed in 1898. In support of his theory he stated that a certain gentleman, later named by W. A. Wheeler as Edward A. Crowninshield, had run across a copy of the Songs in the library of the American Antiquarian Society, and had made a note of the title to be looked up at another time, but had never been able to find it again. About the year 1856, this gentleman who died in 1859 told Eliot of his discovery, giving the title and imprint, and describing the representation of a goose on the title page. No copy of this 1719 work has ever been located, and its authenticity depends entirely on the testimony of Eliot. The definiteness of the imprint is one point in its favor, as according to Evans, Fleet was at this address, in both 1714 and 1722. It has been suggested that the whole thing was a hoax.

The story was repeated by "G. A. R." [W. A. Wheeler] in "Mother Goose's Melodies for Children," the Hurd and Houghton edition first published in 1870. Haven's list appended to the American Antiquarian Society's edition of Thomas's "History of Printing," 1874, vol. 2, includes the title with a query, giving as the only source, W. W. Whitmore's skeptical note on the subject in the New Eng. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. 27, 1873, pp. 144-145. The latter notes the absence of any memorandum of Crowninshield's to substantiate the title. He quotes from an account book of Daniel Henchman, the bookseller, the sale to other booksellers of numbers of copies of "Verses for Children" in 1719 and 1720. Thomas Fleet had printed primers for Henchman, and Whitmore presumes that he would also be the printer of the "Verses" and not likely to get out a similar different collection of his own. However, Evans lists three other printers as printing for Henchman in this year. The American Antiquarian Society has no record of ever having owned the work, or any correspondence on the subject with Mr. Crowninshield.

Other arguments against the credibility of the 1719 edition were brought forward by Whitmore in his "The Original Mother Goose's Melody," Albany, 1880, and Boston, 1892, such as the lack of contemporary references, the religious character of most children's books of the period, etc. This is the best study of the subject as a whole.

The generally accepted theory of the origin of the name of "Mother Goose," stated by Whitmore, is that it is derived from the well-known "Mère l'Oye" of French folklore. Perrault in 1697, published "Histoires ou contes du tems passé," upon the frontispiece of which is an inscription "Contes de ma Mère Loye." The first English version of Perrault's tales was probably that translated by a Mr. Samber said to have been advertised in the Monthly Chronicle of March, 1729. A New York seventh edition apparently from this translation was printed by Rivington in 1795, with the title: "Tales of Passed Times by Mother Goose," which was "Englished by R. S. Gent." According to Charles Welsh, in his "A Bookseller of the Last Century," 1885, Newberry issued a seventh edition of "Mother Goose's Tales" in 1777. These prose tales, including, Blue-Beard, Sleeping Beauty, etc., are to be distinguished from the collection of nursery rhymes, "Mother Goose's Melody."

"Mother Goose's Melody, or Songs for the Cradle," was entered at Stationers' Hall, Dec. 28, 1780, by T. Carnan, the stepson and successor of Newberry, though it may have been printed earlier, and is the first authenticated edition of the modern Mother Goose rhymes. This is known only through Isaiah Thomas's reprints, AAS, having a fragmentary copy of the first edition, 1785 or 1786, a perfect copy of the second, 1794, and an almost complete copy of the third, 1799. Charles Welsh calls attention to the fact that if the "Melody" was printed before the death of Newberry in 1767, it is likely that Oliver Goldsmith had a hand in the compilation of these traditional rhymes, as he was employed constantly by the former, and a song known to be a favorite of his is included in the preface of the collection as printed by Thomas. The whimsical character of the preface, and the notes at the foot of the rhymes are in keeping with Goldsmith. A copy of what is apparently a pirated edition of the Newberry collection printed in London by a contemporary, John Marshall, about 1780, is in the Bodleian Library. Although the Newberry edition of the jingles is the first collection known to bear the name of Mother Goose, it should be understood that probably most of the rhymes were current at the time, and some had been previously printed.

The Newberry-Thomas edition was the basis of an undated edition published by Munroe and Francis about 1824, with the title, "Mother Goose's Quarto," and of a new edition copyrighted in 1833 entitled "Mother Goose's Melodies." Under this copyright a number of issues were published, including the article by Eliot from the "Boston Transcript." For an account of many other editions, see Whitmore's "Original Mother Goose's Melody" cited above. See also Welsh's "Oliver Goldsmith and Mother Goose" in the "Bibliographer," vol. 1, New York, 1901, pp. 285-295; Am. Antiq. Soc. "Proceedings," for Oct., 1888, new ser. vol. 5, pp. 406-410, vol. 7, for Oct., 1890, p. 40, and vol. 37, for Oct., 1927, pp. 205-207; and Starrett's "All about Mother Goose," 1930. According to the preface of the 1858 edition, which is signed by Edward C. Porter, "The first collection of our songs was made in 1853, by Messrs. [N. W. T.] Root and [J. K.] Lombard. Their effort met with such approval that in a short time the edition was exhausted, and in 1855 a second was prepared by Mr. Root. While in the present collection I have in the main followed the plan pursued by the former editors, it will be found that very many changes have been effected both in the matter and arrangement . . ." The 1860 edition was also compiled by Porter.

SONNTAG. Professor Sonntag's Thrilling Narrative of the Grinnell Exploring Expedition to the Arctic Ocean, in the years 1853, 1854, and 1855, in search of Sir John Franklin, under the command of Dr. E. K. Kane, U.S.N. containing the history of all previous explorations of the Arctic Ocean, from the year 1618 down to the present time; showing how far they advanced northward, what discoveries they made, and their scientific observations, the present whereabouts of Sir John Franklin and his party, if they are still alive. A statement of the only practicable method by which the North Pole may be reached; the reasons why all exploring expeditions have hitherto failed to penetrate the icy barriers of the polar regions. Highly important astronomical observations, proving that there is no such thing as apparent time at the North Pole; sufferings of Dr. Kane's exploring party; how they were buried for two years in the ice, enduring a degree of cold never experienced by any human being before; their miraculous escapes and unprecedented hardships; their abandonment of the ship; and perilous journey of four hundred miles over the ice. With nearly one hundred splendid engravings. By Professor August Sonntag, astronomer to the expedition, formerly of the Royal Observatory at Vienna, and late of the U. S. National Observatory, Washington City, D. C. Philadelphia, Penn.: Jas. T. Lloyd & Co. Cincinnati, Ohio: Jas. T. Lloyd & Co. [Verso of title:] Stereotyped by George Charles. Printed by C. Sherman & Son. [cop. 1857.] 8vo, pp. 144, including illustrations. c. + Philadelphia, Penn.: Jas. T. Lloyd & Co. Cincinnati, Ohio: Jas. T. Rhodes, Inquirer Building. [cop. 1857.] 8vo, pp. 176, including illustrations. AMER.GEOG.SOC., NYP. 86971

The above is not really the work of Sonntag. During his absence in Mexico, C. C. Rhodes purchased from Mrs. Sonntag a brief article intended for publication in some magazine, and, merely using the main facts there presented, prepared the Narrative. Sonntag wrote from Mexico, April 22, 1857, "I am very much mortified to see my name at the head of such a wretched concern, especially as I never wrote anything about the expedition which could have given cause to a book like this." Six of his companions on the expedition signed a protest against the publication of the work under his name. See the "Philadelphia Evening Journal," May 19, 1857.

The issues are all from the same stereotype plates. There are variations in the preliminary pages, copyright notices, illustrations, etc.

E. W. Winkler, who supplied the above title, states that the first volumes contain reprints. The University of Texas has originals of the first three of the Proceedings, the first two of which, for 1844 and 1845, have only caption titles: "Proceedings of the National Division, S. of T. First [Second] Annual Session." However, the reprints have title pages beginning "Journal of the Proceedings," and reproduce what appear to be the original imprints so that it is probable that the first editions had such title pages. Until shortly after the admission of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia at the fifth session, 1848, the order was known as the Sons of Temperance of the U. S.

En la Imprenta | de los Niños Huersanos. [Lima.] Año de 1778.
4to, 12 unnumbered leaves. 87150

Title from Medina's "La Imprenta en Lima." There is a copy in the Biblioteca Nacional in Santiago.

SORIA (Francisco de). Espejo de aprovechados y perfectos en el estudio de la Oracion é imitacion de Christo. Por Fr. Francisco Soria, del Orden de S. Francisco. Puebla de los Angeles, por Fernandez de Leon. 1683. 87151

This and the following title from Medina's "La Imprenta en la puebla de Los Angeles," 1908.

SORIA. Manual de ejercicios para los Desagravios de Christo Señor N. Dedicado al Gloriosissimo Patriarcha Señor S. Ioseph, padre putativo de Christo y Esposo de Maria Santissima. Por Fray Francisco de Soria. Con licencia en la Puebla, por Diego Fernandez de Leon, año de 1686. 8vo. 87152

Medina states that he has copied the title from that of the Mexico, 1697, edition.

[SORIA.] Manual | de ejercicios, | para los Desagravios | de Christo Señor N. | Dedicado | al gloriosissimo Pa- | triarcha Señor S. Ioseph, Padre | Putativo de Christo, y Esposo de | Maria Santissima. | Con licencia | En la Puebla por Diego Fernandez | de Leon, año de 1686. Y por su origi- | nal en Mexico, por Doña Maria de | Benavides, año de 1697. | 8vo, pp. (10), 55 leaves. + [Same imprint.] 1699. 8vo, pp. (10), 55 leaves. 87153

Titles from Medina's "La Imprenta en México." The only difference indicated by Medina in the two titles is that the 1699 has the word original in the imprint separated as ori- | ginal.

Medina also gives the following later editions: Mexico, 1709, 1722, 1724, 1726, 1728, 1736, 1743, 1756, 1761, 1764, 1767, 1774, 1783; Puebla, 1743, 1786; and, Guatemala, 1771. A. Palau y Dulcet in his "Manual del librero hispano-americano," vol. 6, 1926, adds Puebla, 1729, and 1741, and Mexico, 1733. NYP. has copies of Puebla, 1758, 1773, and 1786.

SORIA (Francisco Joseph de). Descripcion | de las fiestas | que hicieron | los Diputados | de la Ciudad | de Tehuacan, | en celebridad | de la dedicacion | del templo | de Nuestra Señora | del | Carmen. | Rasgo epico | de D. Bernardo. | Año de 1783. | 4to, pp. (37). U.CAL. 87154

Title from Medina's "La Imprenta en México." The British Museum catalogue lists an edition of 1788, which is probably a mistake for the above.

SORIA. Romance | de D. Francisco | Joseph de Soria. | Americano. | [Colophon:] Reimpresso en Mexico: en la Imprenta de

AAS. 87172

Another edition reprinted from Graves's translation. It contains two poems, Werter to Charlotte, and Suicide, published originally in the London editions of 1784 and 1789, respectively. See O. W. Long's "American Reprints of Werther translations," typewritten bibliography at AAS.

The Letters to Charlotte which form pp. 149-284, were the work of an Englishman, W. James. This fact was discovered by W. A. Speck through a letter of James, now in the Speck Collection at Yale University, which was addressed to Cadell, the original publisher of the Letters, London, 1786. See the "New York Times," for Oct. 25, 1925, p. 29: 3.

B., BA., C., CU., NYH., NYP., UP., WHS., WLC., Y. 87205

Also issued on large paper. NYP.

On verso of title: "These translations are made from [transcripts of] manuscripts [attested by Muñoz] in the original Spanish, belonging to the Historical Collection of James Lenox, Esq. [NYP.] One hundred copies have been printed for G. W. R[iggs]." The original manuscripts are in the archives at Simancas.

Contains de Soto's letter written from Florida, July 9th, 1539, and addressed to the Justice and Board of Magistrates in Santiago de Cuba; memoir of Fontaneda, respecting Florida, written in Spain about 1575; notes by Smith on the memoir; and, under the title of "Espiritu Santo Bay," a summary of the various accounts of de Soto's expedition; and a bibliography of books and manuscripts relating to the same.

Another English version of de Soto's letter was published in French's "Historical Collections of Louisiana," pt. 2, 1850, pp. 89-93; and a French version in Ternaux-Compans' "Voyages, relations et mémoires . . . recueil de pièces sur la Floride," 1841, pp. 43-50.

SOTO. Narratives of the career of Hernando de Soto in the Conquest of Florida as told by a Knight of Elvas, and in a relation by Luys Hernandez de Biedma, factor of the expedition. Translated by Buckingham Smith. New York. M DCCC LXVI. [Colophon:] Alword Printer. N. Y. 8vo, pp. (8), vii-xxviii, 324. Frontispiece portrait, plate and map. C., NYH., NYP. + [Another issue of the same with pp. (4) added, containing list of subscribers and colophon.] NYP. 87206

On verso of title of the first issue: "Club copy. No. — . . . One hundred and twenty-five copies printed." Half title: "Bradford Club Series. Number Five." On verso of title of the second issue: "Subscriber's copy. No. — . . . Seventy-five copies printed." With the exceptions mentioned, the issues are the same. A short account of the Bradford Club appears on pp. vii-viii, accompanied by a list of the Bradford Club publications, and a plate of the tombstone of William Bradford.

The first part is a translation with notes of the anonymous Portuguese "Relaçam verdadeira," our no. 24895, vol. 6, entered under Florida, under which heading are also listed editions of a translation by Hakluyt, nos. 24896, 24897, and 24858; editions of a French translation by Citri de la Guette, no. 24864; and an English translation taken from the latter, no. 24865.

The second part is a report presented by de Biedma to the King in 1544, and first printed, in a French translation, by Ternaux-Compans in his "Voyages, relations et mémoires . . . recueil de pièces sur la Floride," 1841, pp. 51-106. Earlier English translations are in French's "Historical Collections of Louisiana," pt. 2, 1850, pp. 95-109, and by W. B. Rye in the Hakluyt Society's edition of Hakluyt's translation of the Knight of Elva's narrative, no. 24858. Buckingham Smith printed the Spanish text in his "Coleccion de varios documentos," 1857, pp. 47-65.

The appendix contains translations of letters, official documents and royal decrees.

Buckingham Smith's edition was reprinted with an introduction by E. G. Bourne in 1904.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

See Carolina, for many titles relating to this region. Though in January, 1711/12, a distinct governor was commissioned for North Carolina (Col. Rec. of N. C., vol. 1, p. xxxi) and the separation of the two colonies was completed by 1729, even after that date the term "Carolina" was used frequently in works relating to the southern colony. Most of the titles of this sort have not been reentered here, but a few omitted under Carolina, or imperfectly entered there, are included.

The works entered below are as follows:

1. Public documents.
2. Miscellaneous publications. Works relating to South Carolina not elsewhere entered under individual or corporate author, or title. These include anonymous works, state society and party publications, and those of other corporate bodies in whose name that of the state appears. A few especially interesting works which had not been entered under the lesser local divisions to which they relate are also added here.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

The list of works following is not intended to be complete after 1800. For the later period we have not attempted to enter all the routine reports of committees of the legislature, officials, departments and institutions. These are for the most part issued in the serial publication, Reports and Resolutions of the General Assembly, but they were frequently also published separately. For many items of this sort omitted here, see Bowker's "State Publications," pt. 4, 1908, pp. 781-804. Others are included because of their interest as Confederate imprints, for their scarcity or for some similar reason.

For an account of the archives of South Carolina, 1664-1789, with brief bibliographical notes in the case of printed documents, see Hasse's "Materials for a Bibliography of the Public Archives of the Thirteen Original States," in Amer. Hist. Soc. Rept. for 1906, vol. 2, pp. 532-550.

The official publications below, are first entered under the subdivisions, Colony, British Military Occupation, and State. Under these the arrangement is alphabetical, as a rule, under the department, official, or institution, responsible. Exceptions to this rule are the entries under Charters; Constitution; and Laws, Statutes, etc.

COLONY.

ASSEMBLY. Acts. For convenience these are arranged with the state laws, under the heading, Laws, Statutes, etc.

The Copy of an Act lately pass'd in Carolina, | and sent over to be confirm'd here by the Lord | Granville, Palatine, and the rest of the Lords | Proprietors of the said Colony; which would | be highly prejudicial to her Majesty's Inte- | rests, destructive to that Colony, discouraging | to Trade, and a dangerous Precedent to the | other
Plantations: As may appear by the Act | itself, and some Queries
thereupon. | [London? 1705?] | 12mo, pp. 8.

C., HSP., JCB., NYP. 87347

Caption title. Improved from no. 10968, vol. 3, under Carolina. The title of the act as printed in this pamphlet after the caption title, is with slight exceptions that given in our no. 10956, which is either an incorrect entry or another edition of the same. The c., JCB., HSP., and NYP. copies of the "Copy of an Act" are bound with the "Two Charters granted by King Charles II.," our no. 10980, as in that entry by Sabin. He stated, however, that it was not necessarily included in the work. Lawrence C. Wroth, on the other hand, suggests the possibility that in spite of separate pagination and signatures, the "Two Charters" with the Fundamental Constitutions, may have been issued at the time simply as a background to the "Copy of an Act," and to explain references to those documents in the queries attached to it. The dissenters were opposing this Church Act of May, 1704, and another of November of that year, our no. 10958, which included in its provisions a lay commission for ecclesiastical matters. They claimed that they were inconsistent with their privileges under the Charters and Fundamental Constitutions. See Col. Rec. of N. C., vol. 1, pp. 634-640.

A Full State of the Dispute betwixt the Governor and the Commons House of Assembly. See no. 26151, vol. 7. NYH.

The collation should include a half title, pp. (4), 78.

The title of "The Two Charters granted by King Charles II.," n. d. indicated by the last number, does not mention that many copies have a typographical error, "Fundamfntal" for "Fundamental," on the title page. This appears in copies at BA, C., CH. LIB. SOC., H., JCB. (2), HSP. and NYP. A second copy at Harvard has the correct spelling, but is otherwise from the same setting of type.

Sabin considered that the "Copy of an Act," with separate pagination and signature, which is attached to some copies, was not necessarily included with them. See however, note on that pamphlet, entered above under Assembly.

Winsor stated in his "Narrative and Critical History," vol. 5, p. 336, that issues of the "Two Charters" seemed to have been made in 1698, 1705, 1706, 1708, etc.
 This statement was evidently made on the authority of the dates assigned to this undated work by the compilers of the catalogues which he cited. Lawrence C. Wroth states that the same copy in the old John Carter Brown catalogue was entered under three different years. If it were issued with the "Copy of an Act" which was passed by the Assembly in 1704, that would be the earliest possible date which could be assigned to it. As the agitation over the Act was ended in 1706 by the order in Council, de-clarating it null and void, that would probably be the latest date. The date, 1705, suggested in our former entry, is therefore approximately correct. See McCrady's "History of South Carolina under the Proprietary Government," 1897, p. 437.

COUNCIL. Journals.

None printed contemporaneously. Two volumes covering the period from August 25, 1671-June 24, 1680, and April 11-September 26, 1692, were printed for the Historical Commission of South Carolina, under the editorship of A. S. Salley, in

COUNCIL OF SAFETY. Journals. 1775-1776.

Not contemporaneously printed, and portions lost. See S. C. Hist. Soc. Col., vol. 2, the possession of the Society.

Caption title, supplied by Dorothy Watts.

The petition of Joseph Boon and others, mentioned in the title, was included in "The Humble Address of the Right Honourable the Lords . . . in Parliament Assembled," 1705, our no. 10972, vol. 3, which is reprinted in Col. Rec. of N. C., vol. 1, 1886, pp. 634-640. The petitioners presented in behalf of the dissenters of Carolina an appeal against two Acts of 1704, passed by the Assembly of the province, and which had been sent for confirmation to the Proprietors. For "The Case of Church of England in Carolina," see below, under Miscellaneous Publications. See also, above, under Assembly, "The Copy of an Act."

Salley describes what may be a later issue in the library of the Historical Commission of South Carolina. This contains a half title not in the NYP. copy and additional pages 24-25. The half title of this copy is as follows: "Copies of Extracts from, intercepted and other Letters, from John Stuart, Esq.; Major Furlong, George Frederick Mulcaster, Lord William Campbell, Governor Tonyn, and Lieutenant Governor Moultrie to the Generals Gage, and James Grant. Also of an Original Letter from Moses Kirkland to Col. Laurens." See "First Presses of South Carolina" in Bib. Soc. Amer. "Proceedings," vol. 2, 1907-1908, p. 55. The NYP. copy has the same contents except for the Letter from Kirkland to Laurens. On p. 23, "The foregoing are printed from copies certified, by Charles Thompson, Esq.; Secretary to the Continental Congress, to be taken from the original letters."

A copy of this "South Carolina Association," formerly in the Ford Collection, now in the S. C. MSS. in the New York Public Library, has a ms. note by H. Laurens, as follows: "In General Commēe Thursday 11th May 1775. Proposed in General Committee & Unanimously approved of to be recommended in Provincial Congress as proper to be signed by the Inhabitants of this Province." It was signed in the Provincial Congress of South Carolina, on June 4th, 1775, by Henry Laurens, its President, and by the members present. It was later signed by many of the inhabitants. See McCrady's "History of South Carolina under the Royal Government," 1899, p. 792.

Zincographic facsimiles of the above copy were published by Worthington Ford, with a note at the head, "South Carolina Association. From the Ford Collection. [ms. is by Henry Laurens, President of the Council of Safety.]"

A varying edition of the text of the "Association" was printed in Ramsay's "History of South-Carolina," 1809, vol. 1, pp. 236-237.

The Proceedings for each day contain the Journals of both Houses alternately.

The best sets of the Journals of the Senate and House which we have located are at C., NYP. and the State Library at Columbia.

For earlier Journals, 1831-1837, see below, under Laws, Statutes, etc., "Acts and Resolutions," 1831, especially note to that title. (For a modern printing of the Journals for sessions of 1776, see publications of S. C. Hist. Com., 1906, 1909. Also House Journal, Jan.-Feb. 1782, published 1916.)

The Journals of the Senate and House began to be printed regularly in permanent form, with the session of 1831 when they were issued following the Acts and Resolutions, with an independent paging but with merely the caption heading: Legislative Proceedings. From 1831 to the special session, June 1838, this treatment and heading continued except that in 1834 and 1835, half titles were given: Journal of the Legislature of South Carolina, for the Year 1834; Journal of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, for the Year 1835. From 1832 on, the Governor's annual message was usually included in the same paging, sometimes arranged beneath the heading, sometimes just before it. Beginning with the session of 1838, the Journals were printed separately from the Acts, though they are often found bound with them both officially and by private owners. For information as to dates of sessions, see note on Acts and Resolutions, 1801, under Laws, Statutes, etc.

The Journals of the sessions 1839 to 1841 were printed uniformly with those of 1838, in the year of the session, as follows:

1839, pp. 171, (1).

1840, pp. 171.

1841, pp. 167, (1).

After this date, the Journals of the House and Senate were printed separately. See below, under the publications of those bodies.

Also issued bound with other documents in the compilation entitled Statutes at Large, "Volume Seventh," A. H. Pemberton, 1840.

The best sets of this series which we have located are at C., NYP., and at the State Library at Columbia.

For issues of earlier years, see under Laws, Statutes, etc., "Acts."

The first hint of the series which later developed into the Reports and Resolutions, was the printing of the resolutions of the General Assembly with the Acts. In 1784, the title reads, "Acts, Ordinances, and Resolves . . ." The title, "Acts and Resolutions," appeared first in the December session, 1791, and continued until 1839. At first, resolutions, chiefly, were printed but gradually reports of committees and officials were included until they became the larger part of the publication. The heading, "Reports and Resolutions," was given in 1794, but the material was not published as a separate pamphlet with a title page until 1840. Even after that date, the Reports and Resolutions were often bound with the Acts. In 1842, the title changed to "Reports and Resolutions of the General Assembly of South-Carolina, passed at its Regular Session." In 1846, it became ". . . of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, passed at the Annual Session of."

After 1868, the joint resolutions were again included with the Acts under the title, "Acts and Joint Resolutions," but the series of Reports and Resolutions continued with only slight variations in title until 1917, when the name was changed to, "Reports of State Officers, Boards and Committees."

For information as to dates of sessions, see note on Acts and Resolutions, 1801, under Laws, Statutes, etc.

GOVERNOR.

The list of executive publications below, is arranged chronologically by terms.

The earliest of the governors' messages which have been located, were published separately either in the form of a broadside or of a sheet folded in two leaves.

After the Journals of the General Assembly began to be printed in 1831, the governors' annual and other messages were usually included in Journals of both houses, but occasionally in the Reports and Resolutions as in 1836 and 1837. From the lists sent by cooperating libraries, it is apparent that in most years the annual messages were also issued separately. They were usually called "Message No. 1," "Message," or "Annual Message," but were sometimes included in an "Inaugural Address." It has not been attempted to enter them all. Titles of a few of special interest or rarity are included.

LAWS, STATUTES, ETC.

The laws entered below are arranged as follows:

1. Acts of the General Assembly, from 1736 to 1800.

These are arranged chronologically, under each year, the session laws first, followed by individual acts issued separately.

2. Acts issued by sessions, from 1801 to 1870-71.

Special acknowledgment should here be made to T. L. Cole of the Statute Law Book Company for helpful criticisms and suggestions, most of which have been carried out. Further information was furnished by Imri L. McCloud.

3. Individual acts from 1801, and compilations, digests, etc., of laws, arranged alphabetically.

ACTS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

1736-1800.

For earlier acts passed by the General Assembly, see below, the "Laws of the Province," compiled by Nicholas Trott, 1736, the "Public Laws" of J. F. Grimké, 1790, and Cooper's edition of the "Statutes at Large," vols. 1-3, 1836-1838. See also, "An Abridgement of the Laws in Force and Use in Her Majesty's Plantations," London, 1704, our no. 81, vol. 1.

For a list of sessions of this period compiled by A. S. Salley and Wilberforce Eames, see Amer. Hist. Soc. Rept. for 1897, pp. 442-449. The Massachusetts State Library's "Hand-list" of Statute Law, 1912, includes a list of sessions at which acts were passed compiled from Trott.

Good sets of the acts from 1801 on are at C., H. (LAW), MSL., NYBA., and NYP.

From this session, the Acts and Resolutions were issued in octavo size, and as the regular sessions were held in December, they were usually printed the first part of the following year. According to the Constitution of 1790, the General Assembly met annually on the fourth Monday in November and the ensuing session was called the "December Session." In the following list of session laws when the year only is given, the December session is indicated. In 1827, 1860, and 1862, the Assembly adjourned to meet again in January, but the session is considered a part of the regular session. After 1868, the fourth Tuesday of November was the date of opening of the regular sessions and they continued into the following year. In 1804, 1808, 1812, 1813, 1817, 1827, 1832, 1838, 1860, 1861, 1862, 1863, 1865, 1866, and 1868, extra sessions were held which passed laws printed either with those of the regular session or in separate pamphlets. In 1848, 1852, 1856, and 1860, extra sessions were called to choose presidential electors, and no acts were passed at those times except a few in 1860 which were printed with those of the regular session. In 1861, a similar session was called to choose electors for the Confederate presidential elections.

The Resolutions with the reports of officials and committees to which they refer, were grouped as "Reports and Resolutions" and followed the Acts in continuous pagination within each volume, until the session of 1826 when they began to be paged independently, though in 1836 and 1838, the pagination was again continuous with that of the Acts. With the sessions of 1839 and 1840, the Reports and Resolutions began to have separate title pages, with imprint, and from that date we have entered them separately. See above under General Assembly.

The Acts and Resolutions were first issued in pamphlet form. Later, a certain number, according to the contracts for the public printing, were bound in "permanent form." When the Reports and Resolutions, and Journals, began to be issued in pamphlets separately from the Acts, in 1840 and 1838 respectively, they were nevertheless often bound with them, both officially and by private owners. From this it follows that often in library catalogues the collations of the three series are given together. In this dictionary, the collations of the pamphlets are given, the three series being kept separate.

A list of the Acts and Resolutions arranged by sessions, 1801 to 1830, follows:

The volumes for 1801 to 1817 were printed at Columbia by D. (or Daniel) & J. J. Faust; 1818-1822 by D. (or Daniel) Faust; 1823-1829 by D. & J. M. Faust; 1830 by A. Landrum.

Fifty copies of photo-facsimile reprints of the Acts of the sessions of May 1804, June 1808, Aug. 1812, and Sept. 1813, were issued by the Statute Law Book Co., the first in 1913, and the others in 1916.

The following titles are given in full, though included in the list, because of difference in wording:

An Act and Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South-Carolina. Passed in May, 1804. Columbia: Printed by Daniel & J. J. Faust, State Printers. MDCCCIV. 8vo, pp. 12.

An Act of the General Assembly of South-Carolina. June Session, 1808. [Colophon:] Columbia: Printed by D. & J. J. Faust. [1808.] 8vo, pp. 12. Caption title. Contains Reports and Resolutions.

Acts and Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South-Carolina. Passed in December, 1809. Also the Constitution of South-Carolina, with its Amendments. Columbia: Printed by D. & J. J. Faust, State Printer. MDCCCX. 8vo, pp. 134, (3). 2 folded tables.

Acts and Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina. Passed in December 1831. Columbia. Printed by A. Landrum, State Printer. 1832. 8vo, pp. 54; Reports and Resolutions, pp. 63, (2); Legislative Proceedings, pp. 79. 87667

References are found in the earlier Acts and Resolutions (e.g. those for 1809), to the printing by public printers of the Journals of the two houses of the General Assembly. None of these have been located. This session was the first in which they began to be printed in permanent form, though not in full until that of 1842. From the session of 1831 to that of 1837 inclusive, they were generally bound with the Acts and were without a title page, but paged separately. In some years, they were preceded by a half title. Beginning with the regular session of 1838, they were issued with a full title page including the imprint. See under General Assembly, Journal of the Proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Session called because of the Charleston fire. The order in which the items are bound, varies in the different copies examined.

Acts of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina. Passed in December, 1841. Printed by order of the Legislature, in conformity with the Statutes at Large, and designed to form a part of the Eleventh Volume, commencing with the Acts of 1839. Columbia: A. H. Pemberton, State Printer. 1842. 8vo, pp. (2), 143-211, xii. 87670

At the session of 1839, a resolution was passed, ordering that the Acts of that session and all future Acts should be printed "to correspond with the Statutes at Large, in size, paper and type, and that the paging . . . be continuous, until sufficient matter is accumulated to make up a similar volume to the last." At the session of 1840 it was noted that the Public Printer had failed to carry out these instructions in the volume for 1839. He was ordered to produce a certificate from the Commissioner of Statutes at Large before he should be paid for printing the Acts of 1840, showing that the instructions had been followed for that session. He was also ordered to reprint the Acts of 1839 "to be so paged as to be bound with the Acts of the present session," i.e. 1840. See Reports and Resolutions (in Acts and Resolutions, original edition of the session of 1839), p. 92; also Reports and Resolutions, 1840 (in the 1839-40 pamphlet issued as Statutes at Large, vol. 7), pp. 94-95.

In his volume for 1840, the printer reprinted the Acts of 1839 according to the specifications, beginning the Acts of 1840 on the verso of the last page of the Acts of 1839. He called this volume Statutes at Large, "Volume Seventh," in spite of the plan of the Commissioner of the Statutes at Large, to give up vols. 7-10 of that series to an arrangement by subject, and an index. The 142 pages of Acts in the volume were continued in the paging of the Acts, sessions 1841 to 1849, issued with title pages similarly declaring them designed to form a part of the "Eleventh" Volume. When a vol. 11 was reprinted in 1873, it contained the Acts included in the so-called vol. 7. See Statutes at Large.

The Acts for the following sessions were intended to be bound together as the eleventh volume of the Statutes at Large:

1839, see below, the two issues of vol. 7 of Statutes at Large, our nos. 87713, and 87714.

1840, see the two issues of vol. 7 of Statutes at Large, as mentioned above.

1867, no session.

The Acts for all the sessions of 1862 and 1863 were printed by Charles P. Pelham; 1864 and 1865, the issue combining 1864 and 1865, and the extra session, 1866, by Julian A. Selby; 1866, by F. G. de Fontaine.

Acts of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, passed in December, 1864. Printed by order of the Legislature, in conformity with the Statutes at Large, and designed to form a part of the thirteenth volume, commencing with the Acts of 1861. Columbia: Evans & Cogswell, State Printers. 1865. 8vo, pp. iv, 231-281, vi. 87673

All but about 25 copies of this edition of the Acts were destroyed in the burning of the printing-house of Evans & Cogswell in 1865. The above title was supplied to T. L. Cole by A. S. Salley in February 1916.

The Acts were ordered reprinted. The first reprint in 1866 was not paged consecutively, and a second, to contain also a reprint of the Acts of 1865, was ordered. See following title. See also Reports and Resolutions, 1865, pp. 137-138.

Acts of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, passed at the Sessions of 1864-65. Printed by order of the Legislature, in conformity with the Statutes at Large, and designed to form a part of the Thirteenth Volume, commencing with the Acts of 1861. Columbia, S. C.: Julian A. Selby, Printer to the State. 1866. 8vo, pp. (2), ii, ii, 231-370, iv, xv. 87674

Third edition of the Acts of 1864, and second edition of the Acts of 1865.

The Constitution of South Carolina, adopted April 16, 1868, and the Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly, passed at the Special Session of [July-Sept.] 1868, together with the Military Orders therein re-enacted. Printed by order of the General Assembly, and designed to form a part of the Fourteenth Volume of the Statutes at Large, commencing with the Acts of 1868. Columbia, S. C.: John W. Denny, Printer to the State. 1868. 8vo, title, verso blank; The Constitution of the State of South Carolina, with the Ordinances appended, pp. 38, 2, 18; Acts of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, passed at the Special Session of 1868, 1 leaf, pp. 168, 4, 7. 87675

Cover title bears a different imprint: Charleston, S. C.: Denny & Perry, Printers and Publishers. 1868. T. L. Cole states that there is another issue without the Constitution and Ordinances, with collation: "title, [4], [3]-151, 6, 4."

Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, passed at the Regular Session of 1868-69. AAS., C., CU., H., HEH., HSP., JCB., MSL., NYH., NYP., UTEX., WHS., Y. 87706

Only the titles of Acts from 1682-1694 are printed. The first Act printed is one of 1694. The State Library of Massachusetts "Hand-list" of statute law states that the Department of Justice catalogue shows an edition 1682-1790, by Grimké, Philadelphia, 1790. This entry evidently takes the date 1682 from that of the first printed title of an Act. A copy in the Library of Congress has been given the dates 1682-1790 on the binder's title, but it corresponds to our entry above, and that in the "Hand-list."

For a critical note on this compilation, see Whitney's "Bibliography of the Colonial History of South Carolina," in Amer. Hist. Soc. Rept. for 1894, p. 584.

The above vols. 7-10 are arranged by subject. The chronological series of laws was continued in the volumes of the Acts published by sessions, whose titles declare them to be "designed to form a part" of the several ensuing volumes of the Statutes at Large. For reprints together of the parts making up one volume, see following titles:

The Statutes at Large of South Carolina. Volume Eleventh, containing the Acts from 1838, exclusive. Arranged chronologically. Published under authority of the Legislature. Columbia, S. C.: Re-printed by Republican Printing Company, State Printers. 1873. 8vo, pp. 603, 121. C., H. (LAW), MSL., NYP.

+ Volume XII, containing the Acts from December, 1850, to January, 1861. . . . Columbia, S. C.: Republican Printing Company, State Printers. 1874. 8vo, pp. (2), xxiii, 3-816, 54. C., CU. (LAW), MSL.

+ Volume XIII, containing the Acts from December, 1861, to December, 1866. . . . Columbia, S. C.: Reprinted by Republican Printing Company, State Printers. 1875. 8vo, pp. xviii, 488, 22. C., CU. (LAW), MSL., NYH.

+ Volume XIV, embracing the Constitution of 1868, and Acts of Assembly passed at special session of 1868, and regular sessions of 1868-'69, 1869-'70, 1870-'71. Published by authority of the General Assembly. Columbia, S. C.: Re-printed by Republican Printing Company, State Printers. 1873. 8vo, pp. (2), 4, iii-viii, vii, (3), viii; Constitution, pp. 38, 2, 18; Acts, pp. (2), 710, (2), 68. C., NYP.

+ Index to Volume XIV of the Statutes at Large of the State of South Carolina. Printed by order of the General Assembly, and designed to form an index to the Constitution of 1868, and the fourteenth volume of the Statutes at Large, commencing with the Acts of the special session of 1868, and ending with the Acts of the regular session of 1870-'71. Columbia, S. C.: Republican Printing Company. 1871. 8vo, pp. 68. H. (LAW), MSL., NYP. 87712

The above forms the last 68 pp. of vol. 14, and was probably also issued separately.

The Statutes at Large of South Carolina: published under authority of the Legislature. Volume Seventh, containing the Acts from 1838, exclusive. Arranged chronologically. Columbia, S. C. A. H. Pemberton, State Printer. 1840. 8vo, pp. (2), Acts of 1839, pp. 93; Acts of 1840, pp. 94-142, indices, xliii, Reports and Resolutions, 1840, pp. 120, xi; Journal, 1840, pp. 171.

C., NYP. 87713

The Reports and Resolutions, and the Journal have separate title pages with imprint.

The Public Printer was ordered to print the Acts of 1839 and 1840 and all future Acts to correspond with the Statutes at Large, and to have the paging continuous until enough matter was accumulated to make up a volume of that series. The Acts of 1838 had concluded the sixth volume. The volume number of the above was adopted in spite of the topical arrangement of vols. 7-10 published by the Commissioner of the Statutes. See note to Acts, 1841. The Acts only were reprinted as follows:

The Statutes at Large of South Carolina. Published by order of the Legislature of 1857. Volume Seventh, containing the Acts of 1839 and 1840. Arranged chronologically. Columbia, S. C.: T. S. Piggot, Printer to the House. 1858. 8vo, pp. 201, liii.

ALMANACS.

South Carolina almanacs printed before 1800 are here entered chronologically. If there is a compiler's or calculator's name prominent in the title, and it is possible still to make an entry under his name, a cross reference is given under the year. If the opportunity for entering under the calculator's name is passed, as in the case of Andrews, the almanac is included in the following list. The "Palladium of Knowledge" series has been continued as far as the issue for 1813, the last one located. Titles of "State Rights" almanacs for 1833 and Confederate years are also included.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION. A | Confession | of | Faith, | put forth by the | Elders and Brethren | of many | Congregations | of | Christians | (Baptized upon Profession of their Faith) | In London and the Country. | Adopted by the Baptist Association in | Charlestown, South-Carolina. | To which is annexed, | A Summary of Church-Discipline. | . . . | Charlestown, | Printed by David Bruce, in Church-street. | MDCCLXXIV. | 8vo, pp. viii, 88. NYP. 87794

The "Summary" has a new series of signature marks and a separate title page as follows: A | Summary | of | Church-Dicipline [sic]. | Shewing the | Qualifications and Duties, of the Offi- | cers and Members, of a Gospel-Church. | By | The Baptist-Association, | in | Charlestown, South-Carolina. | . . . | Charlestown, | Printed by David Bruce. | MDCCLXXIV. | 12mo, pp. (6), 50, (2). A leaf is apparently torn out of the NYP. copy after the third preliminary leaf. The final leaf belongs to the last signature, but it contains a table of contents for the "Confession of Faith" and, according to the catch words, should be inserted following p. viii of that part.

The Case of the Church of England in Carolina, | Humbly offer'd to the Consideration of both Houses of Parliament. | [London, 1706.] Folio, pp. 4. JCB. 87805

Caption title. Improved title of our no. 10967, vol. 3. The former entry was apparently taken from a bookseller's catalogue, where the "Humble Address" of the Lords to the Queen, our no. 10972, may have been included in the same lot as "Resolves of the House of Lords." The above title and notes below, furnished by Lawrence C. Wroth.

A memorial appealing to Parliament against two acts of the South Carolina Assembly of 1704, see our no. 10956, vol. 3, under Carolina, and no. 87347, under South Carolina, Colony. The first of these (May 6, 1704) required conformity to the Church of England on the part of all members thereafter chosen to the "commons house of assembly," and the second (November 4, 1704) provided for "the establishment of religious worship in this province according to the Church of England." The provisions of the Church Establishment Act were to be carried out by a lay commission, so that it became unpopular not only with the dissenters but with many churchmen as well, among them the Rev. Edward Marston, in charge of St. Philip's Church, Charleston. While these acts were awaiting the assent of the Proprietors in London, Joseph Boone, on behalf of the South Carolina dissenters, on February 28, 1705/06, presented a "Petition" to the House of Lords protesting against their provisions. See Journal of the House of Lords, for 1705/06, vol. 18, p. 130. On March 13, the Lords presented to the Queen their address in support of Boone's protest, and on June 13, 1706, an order in Council directed the Proprietors to declare the acts null and void. The title entered above is an elaborate form of Boone's "Petition," the text of which is found in McCrady's "History," 1807, pp. 431-432. (See also McCrady, pp.

402-451.) Though the authorship of this "Case" is not completely determined, the responsibility for its publication nevertheless seems clear. In their reply to the "Case" and to Boone's "Petition," entitled "An Account of the Fair and Impartial Proceedings," etc., see above, no. 87359, the Proprietors asserted that Boone had published the "Case" and in a note referred to it as "his Printed case." The date of publication of the "Case" is either late in 1705 or early in 1706. Various considerations indicate its appearance at about the time that Boone's "Petition" was presented to the House of Lords.

By William James Rivers. Improved title of no. 71650, vol. 17, under that author. According to Snowden's "South Carolina School Books, 1795-1865," 1910, from which the above title was taken, the work was published anonymously, and was probably the first school history of South Carolina.

Improved title of no. 51728, vol. 12. Attributed to Thomas Nairn in a ms. note on the title page of the British Museum copy, apparently in a contemporaneous hand, according to Professor V. W. Crane, who considers that the internal evidence points in the same direction. There are, however, letters from Swiss in South Carolina at this period in the archives at Bern, see Faust's "Guide to the Materials for American History in Swiss and Austrian Archives," 1916, pp. 4-5, and the work shows knowledge of conditions in Switzerland. For information as to Nairn's or Nairne's activities, see Professor Crane's articles in the "Mississippi Valley Historical Review," vol. 12, 1925, p. 27, and the "American Historical Review," vol. 24, 1919, pp. 390-391.

C., DE RENNE, NYP. 87900

Second issue. For the first, see [Oglethorpe (James)], no. 56847, vol. 13. The collation should have included a half title. Copies are at BA., C., H., JCB., and in the De Renne Library.

According to V. W. Crane, the work has been attributed to Oglethorpe solely on the authority of Nichols' "Literary Anecdotes," which lists among Bowyer imprints of 1732, "An Account of the Colony in Georgia," as the production of Oglethorpe. Crane thinks that Bowyer's accounts would probably show merely that Oglethorpe paid for the printing, and that the style resembles that of Benjamin Martyn, Secretary to the Trustees. See "Bibliographical Essays, a Tribute to Wilberforce Eames," 1924, pp. 289-291.

Improved title of no. 55969, vol. 13. Attributed in ms. on title page of NYH. copy to Desaussure, then a member of the House, and later a Director of the United States Mint. The date, 1798, is the last mentioned in the statistics. Judge William Johnson, who was also a member of the House in 1798, has also been suggested as the author.

Notices of the Early History of South-Carolina. [Charleston.] Printed by A. E. Miller. 1822. 8vo, pp. 14. AAS., C., M. 87903

Appended to the Charleston, 1822, edition of Archdale's "New Description of . . . Carolina." See note to our no. 1902, vol. 1. The signatures are continuous, so it was probably not issued separately. Contains extracts from the report of the committee of the Commons House of Assembly of the province on General Oglethorpe's expedition to St. Augustine, presented in 1741, etc.

Observations | concerning | Indigo | and | Cochineal. | . . . |
London: | Printed in the Year, MDCCXLVI. | 12mo, pp. 70. A-H in fours (B wrongly marked C), I in three. NYH. 87904

Improved title of our no. 56466, vol. 13. The dedication "To the Planters of South-Carolina" is signed: "A Friend to Carolina." The tract is a compilation of extracts from books and letters edited by "J. C.," a large part being taken from Philip Miller's "Gardener's Dictionary."

The compiler seems likely to have been James Crockat, or Crockatt, who was appointed agent for South Carolina in 1749, shortly after the passage of the Act of Parliament establishing a bounty on indigo in the province. See McCrady's "South Carolina under the Royal Government," 1899, p. 281, and Ramsay's "History of South Carolina," 1809, vol. 2, pp. 210-211.

SOUTHACK (Cyprian). The | New England | Coasting Pilot | from | Sandy Point of New York, | unto | Cape Canso in Nova Scotia, | And Part of Island Breton. | With the | Courses and Distances from Place to Place, and | Towns on the Sea-Board; Harbours, Bays, Islands, Roads, | Rocks, Sands: The Setting and Flowing of Tides and Currents; | with several other Directions of great Advantage to this Part of Navi- | gation in North-America. | By Capt. Cyprian Southack, | Who has been Cruizing in the Service of the Crown of Great Britain | Twenty-two Years. | . . . | [London. 1720?] Folio, pp. (4), and map. + [London. 1734?] Folio, pp. (4), and map in eight sections, 26 by 21½ inches. c. 8822 I

Title of the first issue from a photostat, now in the Edmonds papers at AAS., of the title page of a copy formerly belonging to John H. Edmonds. A reduced facsimile of the title appeared in the "Boston Evening Transcript" for October 6, 1920. According to an article which accompanies the facsimile, it was issued in London in 1720, reissued with additions in 1734, and again in two editions about 1775. In the Edmonds papers is a letter to the editor of the "Transcript," dated October 7, 1920, in which Mr. Edmonds corrects some errors in the article of October 6, and states that the work consists of the "title page as given, three preliminary pages, and the Chart of New England from Sandy Point unto Cape Canso . . ."

An edition is listed in the BM. catalogue of maps, plans and charts, with the date supplied as [1710?]. It could not, however, have been issued prior to 1718 since a notice by Southack in the "Boston News-Letter" of May 26, 1718, stated that he had finished his "Chart of the Sea-Coast from Cape Cancer to Sandy Point of New York . . ." and that he wished anyone interested would call at his house and notify him of any errors in order to make it "as Correct as possible before it is engraven."

The edition at the Library of Congress consists of two preliminary leaves, and eight sections of the map, each of which is double the size of the leaves and folded in the middle. On recto of the second leaf: "His Excellency Francis Nicholson, Esq; was pleased to subscribe near One half part of the whole Expence. The following Persons One Guinea each." On verso of the same is a minute of the King's Council dated in 1694, acknowledging the presentation of a map of the same regions by Southack; also a further testimonial signed by George Martin, dated 1710.

The approximate date of this edition may be assigned from a statement on one of the sections of the map which is dated "Boston in New England October the 30th 1733," and signed by Cyprian Southack. Near the region described as "Part of Island Breten," is the engraved note "Fortifying St Peters, 1733."

Of interest in connection with Southack's charts of the New England region are the following quotations from the Journal of the Massachusetts House of Representatives (Mass. Hist. Soc. edition, vol. 1, 1919, pp. 132 and 143): under date, Nov. 9, 1716, "A Memorial of Capt. Cyprian Southack, Presented to the House & Read, Shewing, That he has drawn a Chart of this Coast from New-York, to Quebeck, and proposing, That it may be cut in a Plate, at the Publick Charge, for the Service of the Navigation, and when so many Copies are taken off, as the Government pleases, that the Plate may be given to him;" and under Nov. 16, "Ordered, That the Prayer of the Memorial be granted; And William Payne Esq; is Desired to take care to have the Plate engraven, and to have a Copy Taken thereof for each Member of the present Court, and then to Deliver the Plate to Capt. Southack the Memorialist for his own use." This was concurred in the following day.

Below are titles of several maps prepared by Southack.

An actual Survey of | The Sea Coast from New York to the I. Cape Briton, | with Tables of the direct and thwart Courses & distances from Place to Place. | by Capt Cyprian Southack. | Illustrated, | with Particular Plans, of the Harbours of | New York, Boston, Canso Bay & Annapolis [sic] Royal, | on a larger Scale. | As also, | A New Chart of the Atlantic Ocean. | [London.] Printed and Sold by W^m Herbert under the Piazzas on London Bridge & Rob^t Sayer facing Fetter Lane Fleet Street | [1758?] c. The c. copy of the map has been mounted in four sections, three of which measure 21 by 36¾ inches, and one, 21 by 62 inches. NYPL has an incomplete copy which was bought at the American Art Galleries, at the sale of the Thomas Hutchinson collection, April 11, 1918. According to the catalogue of that sale, see lot no. 99, Herbert "established himself under the Piazzas, London Bridge, in 1758; soon after the houses on the bridge were torn down, and he removed to Leadenhall Street." See also Plomer's "Booksellers of London Bridge" in "The Library," 2d ser., vol. 4, 1903, pp. 28-46.

An actual Survey of | The Sea Coast from New York to the I. Cape Briton, | with Tables of the direct and thwart Courses & distances from Place to Place. | by Cap^t Cyprian Southack. | Illustrated, | with Particular Plans of the Harbours of | New York, Boston, Canso Bay & Annapolis Royal, | on a larger Scale. | Sold by I. Mount, T. Page and W. Mount, Tower Hill, | London. [177-?] | 97 by 42½ inches. c. The approximate date is assigned for the following reasons: The imprint of the 1775 edition of the fourth book of the "English Pilot" shows that J[ohn] Mount, T. Page, and W. Mount were partners in that year. On the title page of 1764 edition, the names of J. Mount and T. Page only appear. Among the included maps are several, evidently from earlier plates, with imprints in which the name of W. Mount precedes the other two. This was undoubtedly William, the father of John Mount, who is mentioned in Nichols' "Literary Anecdotes," vol. 8, 1814, p. 453. The W. Mount appearing at the end of the 1775 imprint is probably a younger relative, admitted to the firm after 1764. As an obituary in the "Gentleman's Magazine" shows that Thomas Page, an "eminent stationer, and partner with Mr. Mount," died in 1781, that would be the latest possible date which could be assigned.

A-Draught | of | Boston-Harbor | by Capt. Cyprian Southake. | Made by Augustine | Fitzhugh | Anno | 1694. | [London? n. d.] B., c. Title of a modern photo-facsimile from a manuscript original in the British Museum, Ad. ms. 5414, roll 17, which was formerly ms. Sloane 3243, roll 22. See the Library of Congress publication, "Noteworthy Maps, No. 2. Accessions 1926-27," no. 35, p. 8. Information supplied by Ernest Kletsch. A reduced facsimile of the map with the added title: "Fitzhugh's Copy, 1694, of Capt. Cyprian Southake's Map of Boston Harbour, 1689," was published as the frontispiece of the "Proceedings of the Bostonian Society," 1904, and some copies of the plate were issued separately.

Draught of New-England, Newfoundland, Nova-Scotia, and the River of Canada, and the Seas and Territories thereunto adjoining. London? 1694. Title from a Minute of the King's Council, dated February 26, 1694, which states that Southack presented the map on that day to the King. See Prince Society "Publications," Colonial Currency Reprints, vol. 3, 1911, p. 274. No engraved copy of this map has been located by us.

The | Harbour of | Casco Bay | and | Islands Adjacent. | By Cap^t | Cyprian Southicke | Printed for & Sold by Rich^d Mount Tho: Page | and Company on Tower Hill London 1720. | Em: Bowen Sculpt^r. 17 by 21 inches. BA. This map is also found in the fourth book of the "English Pilot," apparently from the same copper plate in the editions of 1721, 1737, 1745, 1749, 1755 and 1758, c. A similar map with some alterations and without Southack's name is in the editions of 1764 and 1794 at NYP., and evidently in the 1775 edition in the Canadian Archives, see list of maps in that collection.

For a French issue, see "Plan," below.

A Map of the Coast of | New England, | from Staten Island to the | Island of Breton; | as it was actually [sic] Survey'd | by Cap^t Cyprian Southack. | Sold by John Senex at the Globe overagainst St Dunstons Church in | Fleetstreet: who also makes & sells Globes & Maps wth new improvements. | [London. 174-?] | 43 by 24 inches. NYP. In the upper left corner are two insets, "The Town of Boston in New England" and "A Chart of the Atlantic Ocean shewing the Situation of Nova Scotia with respect to the British Isles," and in the lower right corner, another inset, "A Draught of the Harbour of Lewisbourg in the Island of Breton With the Fortifications of the Town and Harbour as they were in the Year 1744." The well-known engraver and cartographer, John Senex died in 1740, according to obituary notices in the "Gentleman's Magazine" and the "London Magazine." This suggests that the plate with this imprint might have been engraved before his death, and the inset added in a later state of the same.

A Map of the Coast of | New England, | from Staten Island to the | Island of Breton; | as it was actualy Survey'd | by Cap^t Cyprian Southack. | Sold by I. Mount, T. Page & W. Mount. Tower-Hill, | London. | [177-?] 31¼ by 23⅞ inches. m. Inset maps: "The Town of | Boston | in New England" | 11¼ by 7 inches; and: "A Chart of the Atlantic Ocean shewing the Situation of Nova Scotia with respect to the British Isles" | 6 by 3 inches. For a note explaining the approximate date assigned, see above, note on Southack's "An actual Survey," which has the same imprint. This map is included in the fourth book of the "English Pilot," 1775 edition, according to the list of maps in the Canadian Archives, and also in the 1794 edition at NYP. but not in that of 1764. The 1742 edition of that work has a map similar in many ways to Southack's but it is without his name.

A New Chart of the | British Empire in | North America | With the Distant Colonies Granted | by Letters Patent from Cape Canso | to St. Matthias River | 1746. | [London. 1746.] 32¼ by 28½ inches. c., HSP. The dedication at the foot of the map is signed by Southack. Information supplied by Ernest Spofford.

Plan de la Baie et du Havre de Casco et des Iles adjacentes. Par le Capitaine Cyprian Southack. 1779. BM.

In the John H. Edmonds papers at AAS. is a collection of material, including a number of transcripts of contemporary manuscripts, relating to Southack and his family.

SOUTHEY (William). An Anti-Slavery Tract. By William Southeby. Philadelphia: Andrew Bradford. 1715. 88264

This and the two following titles are from Hildeburn. For an account of Southeby's life and work, see "The Friend," vol. 28, 1855, pp. 293, 301-302, 309-310, where it is stated that no copies of his writings could be found even after much research. Approximate dates of the author, 1650-1720. Joseph Smith in his "Descriptive Catalogue of Friends' Books," 1867, also states that he has never seen any of them.

[SOUTHERLAND?] (Thomas). Blood will out, | or, an | Example of Justice | in the | Tryal, Condemnation, Confession | and | Execution | of | Thomas Lutherland, | Who Barbarously Murdered the Body of | John Clark of Philadelphia, | And was Executed at Salem in West-Jersey | the 23d of February, 169½. | Philadelphia; Printed and Sold by Will. Bradford, 1692. | 4to, pp. 19. NYP. 88270

P. 6 is mispaged 64. There are three complete signatures, but the first two and last two leaves of the second sheet are partially pasted together, and are printed only on the rectos of the first and third, and the versos of the second and fourth. Signed: "Samuell Hedge. Clark."

The name of the murderer, whose trial is described in the above, is given as Southerland in the title entries of Haven, Hildeburn and Evans. Hildeburn's authority for this, his no. 32, was Watson's Mass. Annals at HSP. Sabin, quoting from J. C. Hotten's Catalogue, entered the pamphlet under Lutherland, our no. 42737, vol. 10, and this form of the name, possibly a typographical error, is found in a copy of the rare pamphlet now located at NYP.

First edition, Bristol, 1796.

In the 254 pp. edition listed above, p. 69 is misnumbered 66. The notes on the poems end on p. 254 as in all the issues, and are followed at the foot of that page by a statement that the editor of Joan of Arc has lately received a volume of poems by the same author, which he proposes to publish.

The 264 pp. issue has the addition of a catalogue of books for sale by J. Nancrede, pp. 255–264, possibly missing in the AAS. copy, with 254 pp.

There are two issues of the 270 pp. edition. In one issue, pp. 253–270 are misnumbered 153–170. The space at the foot of p. 254 is blank. A list of subscribers appears on pp. 255-258; a review of Southey's poems, on pp. 258-263; and, a catalogue of books for sale by J. Nancrede, on pp. 264-270. AAS., BA., JCB., M., P.

In the other issue of this edition, pp. [255]-270 are misnumbered [155]-170, pp. 253-254 being correctly numbered. The space at the foot of p. 254 is blank, but the proposals for publishing a volume of Southey's poems appears on p. 258. The list of subscribers, review of poems, and catalogue of books appear on the same pages as in the other issues. HEH.

Some copies were issued with an engraved title page substituted for the printed title, and contain, in addition, three plates. The engraved title reads "Madoc, by Robert Southey", omits the quotation, and the date appears in Roman numerals, M.D.CCC.V. One of the plates is an engraved half title for the second part and forms pp. 185-186, so the issues without the engravings have no pp. 185-186.

"... Madoc ... abandoned his barbarous country [northern Wales], and sailed away to the West in search of some better resting place. The land which he discovered pleased him; he left there part of his people, and went back to Wales for a fresh supply of adventurers, with whom he again set sail, and was heard of no more. There is strong evidence that he reached America, and that his posterity exist there to this day, on the southern branches of the Missouri . . ."—Preface.

SOUTHOUSE (Edward). A letter to the Right Hon. Wm. Pitt, as chancellor of the Exchequer; requiring him as such, to do the Author Justice in paying or seeing it done by others, some back salary that he claims, as heretofore Attorney General and Judge of Common Pleas, in Canada, and submitting to his consideration, whether some Tax Bills modelled on the Plan pointed out, would not produce much more to the State, than what they at present do, and so be a means of lowering the Tax on Wine, that the author may drink it again at a reasonable price. Printed for the Author, and sold by his appointment at Fentum's Music Shop, No. 78, in the Strand, and at Wood's News Shop, at the Royal Exchange. London. [1798?] 8vo, pp. 50. 88596

The author was judge of the Court of Common Pleas at Montreal from 1777-1788. Title and information from P. Gagnon's "Essai de bibliographie canadienne," vol. 2, 1913, no. 2027. As the letter is dated in 1798, the date, 1778, supplied by Gagnon, is evidently an error. An edition of 1798 is in the BM. catalogue, probably the same as the above.

The following notes have been supplied by C. S. Brigham:

The Sower family were the most famous of all German printers in America during the eighteenth century. The name was generally spelled Saur in their German publications, and Sower in their English printing. Christopher Sower (1693—1758) printed at Germantown from 1738 to 1758. His son, Christopher Sower II (1721—1784), printed at Germantown from 1756 to 1777, when because of his opposition to the Revolution, he was accused of pro-British sympathies, and in August, 1778, lost all his printing material through confiscation. His son, Christopher Sower III (1754—1799), printed at Germantown in 1776, and at Philadelphia in 1777—1778, when he espoused the British cause and left Philadelphia. He began printing at St. John, New Brunswick, in 1799. Peter Sower (1759—1785), brother of Christopher Sower III, printed at Philadelphia from 1777 to 1778. Several descendants of the Sower family were printers in the United States during the nineteenth century.

The most famous publications of the Sowers were their folio Bibles, their newspapers, and their long series of almanacs. The best collections of all the Sower imprints are at HSP. and AAS. See "Publications of Christopher Sower," 1876; Charles G. Sower's "Genealogical Chart of the Descendants of Christopher Sower," 1887; Seidensticker's "First Century of German Printing," 1893; and Knauss's "Social Conditions among the Pennsylvania Germans in the Eighteenth Century," 1922. In Am. Antiq. Soc. "Proceedings" for April, 1931, there is a paper by James O. Knauss entitled "Christopher Saur the Third," describing several hitherto unknown titles printed by the latter.

[SPALDING (Henry Harmon)]. Matthewnim Taaiskt. Printed at the Press of the Oregon Mission, under the direction of the American Board, C. F. Missions. Clear Water: M. G. Foisy, Printer. 1845. Small 4to, pp. 81. NYP. 88874

The NYP. copy lacks pp. 17-24, and 81, which are supplied in photostat from Judge James Wickersham's copy, now (1932) in U. Wash. Library. Ballou in his "History of the Oregon Mission Press" in Oregon Hist. Soc. "Quarterly," vol. 23, 1922, states that Spalding, after completing this translation of the Gospel of Matthew into the Nez Perces language, began a translation of the Acts of the Apostles, but that it was never printed. Facsimile reproductions of the title and p. 3 accompany Ballou's article.

SPALDING. Matthewnim Taaiskt. The Gospel according to Matthew, Translated into the Nez Perces Language, by Rev. H. H. Spalding, Missionary of the A. B. C. F. M. New York: American Bible Society, Instituted in the year MDCCCXVI. 1871. 12mo, pp. 130. c. 88875

Title supplied by Ernest Kletsch.

[SPALDING.] Nez-Perces First Book: designed for Children and New Beginners. Clear Water: Mission Press. 1839. 24mo, pp. 8. M. 88876

The M. copy lacks pp. 3-4. c. has pp. 5-6, the title page and pp. 7-8 being supplied in photostat from the M. copy.

"By May 24, 1839, four hundred copies . . . in the artificial alphabet devised by Mr. Spalding were printed, this constituting the first book ever printed in the Oregon Territory. In 1914, Mr. Wilberforce Eames . . . discovered the four outer pages of this book used as a paper cover to a copy of the 20-page Nez Perces First Book belonging to the library of Oberlin College, and the librarian at Oberlin afterwards discovered a second similar copy. The writer has just discovered two more pages of this little book—pages 5 and 6—two specimens of which were used in the binding of the copy of the 20-page First Book presented by Mr. Hall to Dr. Anderson of the A. B. C. F. M., and the Library of Congress has made a similar discovery in their copy, as has also the E. E. Ayer Library of Chicago. . . . Pages 3 and 4 are as yet unknown." See Ballou, whose article cited above in note to no. 88874 includes facsimile reproductions of the title page and pp. 5-8. The 8-page edition was succeeded in August, 1839, by the 20-page edition in the revised Pickering alphabet, for the title of which, see no. 55110, vol. 13. Copies are located at BA., c. and M. Facsimile reproductions of the title page and page containing the alphabet accompany Ballou's article.

[SPALDING.] Nez-Perces Spelling Book, with Scripture Cuts explained. Numepu Spdlin Temis, wo prpl kfts wo imashno kfts. Honolulu. 1839. 18mo. 88877

Title from photostat at M. Ballou in his article cited in note to no. 88874, above, states that this work was never printed, the title page and another page, which were discovered in Hilo "a few years ago by Rev. W. D. Westervelt," being only specimens of proof. Facsimile reproductions of the two pages of proof appear with Ballou's article.

SPALDING. Selections of Scripture in Nez Perces. Lapwai: 1843. 88878

Ballou, in his article cited above, quotes the following written by Spalding on Aug. 26, 1843, ". . . a small book of select portions of scripture is commenced, type partly set, but being not acquainted with the business I make slow work." We have been unable to locate a copy.

[SPALDING.] Shapahitamanash Suyapu Timtki. Printed at the Mission Press. M. G. Foisy, Printer. Clear Water. 1845. [On printed cover:] Lapwai Printed by M. G. Foisy. Small 4to, pp. 24. 88879

An English-Nez Perces vocabulary prepared by Spalding. A "Calender [sic] for 1845" appears on the back cover. Information supplied by Nellie B. Pipes from a copy in the library of the Oregon Historical Society.

[SPALDING.] Talapusapaiaian wanipt Timas. . . Lapwai: 1842. 18mo, pp. 32. OBERLIN. 88880

Title from a photostatic reproduction in NYP. of the entire work, made from a copy of the original edition in the Oberlin College Library. According to Ballou, in his article cited in note to no. 88874, above, the title page must have been set up between Dec. 20, 1842 and Jan. 1, 1843, but the work must not have been completed until well into 1843. He quotes the following written by Mr. Spalding on Aug. 26, 1843, "My days were spent in preparing & printing (in the press) a small Hymn-book of 32 pages . . ." Ballou's article is accompanied by facsimile reproductions of the title and pp. 16, 17, and 32.

For a book of laws compiled by Dr. White, agent of Indian Affairs in the Oregon Territory, and prepared for the press in Nez Perces by Spalding, see White (Elijah). According to Ballou, p. 103, "Rev. H. H. Spalding was the author of seven of the eight books printed in Nez Perces, but it must not be inferred from this that his knowledge of the language was superior to that of his associates. On the contrary his brethren held his linguistic capabilities in very low esteem."

SPALDING (H[enry] W.). The Death of the Saints Precious in the Sight of the Lord. A funeral discourse preached by the Rev. H. W. The introduction is dated, "Barby, den 30 Merz 1772." According to p. xii of the preface of the English translation below, "The first two parts . . . issued from the press in the year 1772; the eighth, or concluding one, in 1775." The first two parts are undated, but the fifth and sixth are dated 1774, and the seventh and eighth, 1775. Each part has a separate title page and table of contents. NYP. lacks the third and fourth parts.

Includes accounts of Count Zinzendorf's visits to St. Thomas, W. I., New York, and Pennsylvania.

SPANGENBERG. *The Life of Nicholas Lewis Count Zinzendorf, Bishop and Ordinary of the Church of the United (or Moravian) Brethren. By the Rev. August Gottlieb Spangenberg. Each volume has beside the general title page, an individual printed title, and an engraved one. Some volumes have also another general title page as a continuation of the first series, numbered 11-25.

The dates on the various title pages in a volume often differ. It appears from the following statement in vol. 1 of this series that not all of the title pages were issued with each volume, but some were supplied later to the subscribers: "Ten volumes have already been published; but, for the convenience of purchasers who may not possess these volumes, a new series is now commenced, and appropriate title-pages will be furnished; as also title-pages, with which the subsequent volumes may be bound in continuation of the former, or with which any separate volume may be bound when not connected with the series."

Several of the volumes have no printer's imprint.

The biographies of LaSalle, Count Pulaski, John Ribault, Charles Lee and John Ledyard were written by Sparks. A general index is included in the last volume.

Some of the volumes went through later editions.

According to the Preface, "The contents . . . are essentially the same, as those of the volume prefixed to Washington's Writings. . . such additions have been made . . . as would . . . enhance its value . . . [as] a separate publication." Mr. Sparks wrote to Harper & Brothers, July 27, 1847: "The first volume of the Writings has never been printed separately. There is another and a different set of stereotype plates for the Life, which is considerably changed from that contained in the first volume of the Writings, and somewhat enlarged. I am unwilling, therefore, that this volume should be published as the 'Life of Washington,' and I hope you will not do it." See H. B. Adams' "Life" of Sparks, 1893, vol. 2, p. 610.

The 1843 edition was issued in 14 monthly numbers, the first appearing in August, 1842. HEH. BA. has nos. 2-14.

The MINNHS. copy of the Cincinnati, 1855, edition lacks the frontispiece portrait.

"When asked how long a time would be required by him to make an abridgement of his 'Life of Washington' while he was still busy with his 'Franklin,' his reply was, 'No time.' And the printer never waited for him a moment, so keen and clear were his decision and sense of proportion." See a quotation from Brantz Mayer in Adams' "Life" of Sparks, vol. 2, p. 611.

| London, Printed by W. G. 1675. |

The above is a combination of two works. According to Pollard and Redgrave's Short-title Catalogue, the "Theatre of the Empire of Great Britain," here abridged, was first published in 1611, and "A Prospect of the most Famous Parts of the World," in 1631. The American interest lies in the latter work, but is slight in earlier editions which contain only a general description and map of America. Copies of these editions of the "Prospect" in this country have been located as follows: London, 1631, C., CU., H., WLC.; London, 1646, C., M., NYH., NYP.; London, 1668, H., JCB. A 1662 edition is listed in a catalogue for a sale at Sotheby's October 28-30, 1918, no. 935, and several other sale catalogues, but we have not located a copy.

Another combination of the two works was issued with title: "The Theatre of the Empire of Great Britain. . . Together with a Prospect of the most Famous Parts of the World," 1676, and the title and collation of the latter part is as follows:

A | Prospect | of the | most famous parts | of the | World, | viz. | Asia, Africa, Europe, America, | with these | Empires and Kingdoms | Therein Contained; viz. | Grecia, Roman-Empire, Germany, Bohemia, | France, Belgia, Spain, Italy, | Hungary, Denmark, Poland, Persia, | Turkish-Empire, Kingdom of China, Tartaria, Summer-Islands. | By John Speed. | To which are added in this New Edition, | The Empire of the Great Mogul, with the rest of the East-Indies. | Palestine, or the Holy-Land, The Empire of Russia. | As also | The Descriptions of His Majesty's Dominions abroad; with a Map | fairly Engraven to each Description. | Viz. New-England, New-York, | Carolina, Florida, | Virginia, Mary-Land, | Jamaica, Barbadoes. | London; | Printed for Thomas Basset at the George in Fleet-street, and Richard Chiswel | at the Rose and Crozen in St. Paul's Church-yard, MDCLXXVI. | . . . | Folio, pp. (2), 56, index (11). 28 maps. C., H., JCB., M., NYH., NYP. Pp. 19-20 are mis-numbered 23-24. The maps appear on the actual leaves of the book, occupying the inside of each group of two leaves. The descriptions of the various geographical sections appear on the recto of the first, and verso of the second, of each group of two leaves. Only the pages containing text are numbered, e.g., "The Description of Jamaica," p. 47; maps of Jamaica and the Barbadoes, verso of p. 47 and recto of p. 48; "The Description of Barbadoes," p. 48. There is no map of Florida.

For the second issue the same type was rearranged in two columns. According to a letter from James F. Hunnewell, to F. C. Bursch of the Lenox Library, dated Feb. 27, 1908, the first issue consisted of "100 copies very small 4°, with photo. fac-simile title. These seemed too small for libraries, and 50 copies (7¾ x 10 in.) were printed in double columns, printed title, & without the photo. fac-sim. title. Original ms. I bought—and still hold & own. The work was printed at Chiswick Press, for me, at my cost, & was never sold, or 'in trade.' The late Henry Stevens (at his own suggestion) looked after the work while I was absent from London. I wrote the 'To the Reader,' but he recast the earlier part, but with no material changes, (except omission of complimentary mention of him that I wrote.) . . ." The manuscript is now in the possession of Mr. Hunnewell's son, James Melville Hunnewell.

AAS., C., HEH., NYH., NYP. 89384

The preface is signed, Thomas Spencer. Pp. 50 and 339 are misnumbered 49 and 33, respectively. On p. 234: "From the half sheet X to Y the printer thro' extreme hurry to complete the work was led into an error of 10, in paging, viz. 299 instead of 289, his table of pages there being miscalculated; and it was tho't best to continue the same error thro' the remaining two half sheets, and in the Index."

NYP. has two different issues, there being minor typographical variations in the title and text, the most noteworthy perhaps being the correction from "Clerk's Magazine" to "Clerk's Magazine" in the caption on p. 7.

JCB. 89444

The Latin edition also printed in Leyden in the same year, is called by many, including Brunet, the original edition. Brunet, however, does not include the Dutch, but only the French edition beside the Latin one. Tiele lists the above before the Latin issue. In connection with the French version included in Charles de Brosses' "Histoire des navigations aux terres australes," vol. 1, 1756, pp. 343-349, it is stated that the original journal of the voyage was composed in Dutch by John Cornelitz de Maye.

Page 29 is mispaged 30.

The plates and maps are numbered 1-25. On the title page is the engraving of Neptune, used by De Bry, reversed.

Pp. 143-192: "Australische Navigatien, ontdeekt door Iacob le Maire, inde Iaeren Anno 1615. 1616. 1617. . . ." For other editions, see Maire (Jacob le).

The two issues of this edition are not from the same setting of type as that of the issues of the 1619 edition, but they differ from each other only in the imprint. The numbered plates of the earlier edition are again used, but the engraving on the title is omitted. Pp. 29, 73, 134 and 163 are mispagged respectively 30, 71, 124 and 193.

Caption title. In Commelin's "Begin ende Voortgang," vol. 1, [1644?]. Schouten's journal forms pp. 70-118. Information from Tiele, p. 68. The latter considers the undated edition of Commelin, earlier than those of 1645 and 1646. The plates are the same as those in the earlier editions of Spilbergen.

Plate, engraved on two leaves.

C., CU., HISP.SOC.AMER., JCB., NYH., NYP. 89448

This edition of Spilbergen, though probably first issued separately, forms the eighth part of Hartgert's "Oost en West-indische Voyagien," our no. 30680, vol. 8.

Pp. 67-120 comprise the edition of Schouten's "Journael" entered as our no.

77933, vol. 19. This has a separate title page with imprint, and is sometimes found separately, though it does not seem probable that it was so issued.

Pp. 15, 112 and 115 are mispaged respectively, 14, 122 and 111.

The plate contains six illustrations, three of which belong to the Spilbergen narrative and three to that of Schouten.

JCB., NYP. S9449

This edition, though first issued separately, forms part of Saeghman's "Verscheyde Oost-Indische Voyagien," our no. 74830, vol. 18, and is the tenth in the arrangement according to Tiele.

Pp. 62-64 contain an account of the customs of the Americans, not included in earlier editions.

A portrait bearing the name of Spilbergen appears on the verso of the title, but Tiele doubts its authenticity. Eight other illustrations are included in the text.

SPILBERGEN. *Specvlvm | Orientalis Occidentalisqve Indiae Navigationvm; | Quarum una Georgij à Spilbergen classis cum potestate Præfecti, altera Iacobi | le Maire auspicijs imperioque directa, Annis 1614, 15, 16, 17, 18. | Exhibens Noui in mare Australe transitus, incognitarumque hactenus terrarum ac gentium | inuentioné:prælia aliquot terra marique commissa, expugnationesq; vrbiu: vna cum dua- | bus nouis utriusque Indiae Historijs, Catalogo munitiuum Hollandicarum, ducum & reliqui bellici | apparatus, Fretisque quatuor: suis quæque figuris ac imaginibus illustrata. | Lugduni Batauorum apud Nicolaum à Geelkercken. an. The engraving on the title pages of the Dutch issues also printed at Leyden in 1619, appears on this title as well, and the illustrations are from the same copper plates. P. 96 is mispaged 69, and pp. 119-120 are blank. Tiele lists beside this, another issue, identical except for the omission of the last line in the title, Sumptibus Ivdoci Hondii.

A reprint of the Latin version forms the appendix of the eleventh part of the Great Voyages of De Bry, Frankfort, 1620. For a description of this edition see our vol. 3, pp. 44-45.

SPILBERGEN. Miroir | Oost & West-Indical, | Auquel sont descriptes les deux dernieres Navigations, faictes | es Années 1614. 1615. 1616. 1617. & 1618. l'une par le renommé Guerrier de

P. 57 is mispaged 97.

B., JCB., NYP. 8945 I

Although a list of plates on verso of the title mentions only 20, the French version contains the same numbered maps and plates from the copper plates of the earlier editions. This translation does not, however, have the engraving on the title, found in the 1619 editions.

An abridged French version, with reengravings of some of the original plates is in R. A. C. de Renneville's "Recueil des voyages qui ont servi à l'établissement de la Compagnie des Indes hollandaises," vol. 4, 1705, pp. 474-566, and vol. 8, pp. 1-113, of the 1725 edition. A condensed narrative appears in Charles de Brosses' "Histoire des navigations aux terres australes," vol. 1, 1756, pp. 343-349.

SPILBERGEN. Dreyjährige Reise Georg von Spielbergen nach den orientalischen und occidentalischen Indien, unde neunjährige Reise Caspar Balby's. Frankfurt. 1625. Folio. 89452

Title from Meusel's "Bibliotheca historica," vol. 3, pt. 2, 1787, p. 120.

The first German translation was published in Frankfurt, in 1620, as the 17th part of Hulsius' "Sammlung." See no. 33670, vol. 8.

An English translation, with notes and an introduction by J. A. J. de Villiers, was published in Hakluyt Soc. "Works," 2d ser., vol. 18, 1906. Condensations are in "Purchas his pilgrimes," pt. 1, book 2, 1625, pp. 80-87; in John Harris's Collection of Voyages, vol. 1, 1705, pp. 34-36; in Callander's "Terra Australis Cognita," vol. 2, 1768, pp. 191-217; and in Kerr's "General History and Collection of Voyages," vol. 10, 1814, pp. 149-161. Callander's work is translated from de Brosses' Dutch compilation, with additions by Callender, and vols. 2 and 3 of the latter were reprinted as a "Collection of Voyages . . ." in 1788.

The author of the above was Vicesimus Knox. William Hone, in the preface of an anonymous English edition of the work published in 1821, stated that the book "was first privately printed at London in 1795, during the war against France, in a duodecimo of 360 pages, and a very few copies of it circulated with great secrecy." In 1822 Hone issued an edition with Knox's name on the title, in which he stated that the author, fearing that he had been too unrestrained in his language, had attempted to suppress the whole of the first edition, but that three copies had been preserved by some means, and from one of these the first American edition had been printed. Since no copy of the original had been located, Edward Solly queried in 1883, whether there were truth in Hone's statement, or whether the American were not really the first.

See "Notes and Queries," 5th ser., vol. 11, 1879, pp. 43, and 174; 6th ser., vol. 7, 1883, p. 407.

It is probable that Winnard did not know about one of the earlier editions. His name is included in the list of burgesses elected May 1, 1812, in T. W. Bean's "History of Montgomery County," [1884], p. 760. He printed the "Norristown Register," later the "Weekly Register," from 1803 until after 1820. See Brigham's Bibliography of American Newspapers in Am. Antiq. Soc. The Spirit of the Fair 1864. . . . Tuesday, April 5 [–23], 1864.

Editorial Committee: Augustus R. Macdonough, Chairman. [and nine others.] *John F. Trow, Publisher and Printer, 50 Greene
St., New York.* [1864.] 4to, pp. 206, (2).

B., BA., C., CU., H., NYP., WHS. 89496

Published daily, except Sundays, during the Metropolitan Fair in New York in 17 numbers of twelve pages each, with the exception of no. 17, which has 16 pages.

Included under the title, "New York," are eight installments of the first edition of a posthumous work by James Fenimore Cooper. This fragment had been intended as the introduction of a work upon which Cooper was engaged at the time of his death, and which was to be entitled, "The Men of Manhattan." According to a preliminary note, "only the Introduction . . . had been sent to the press: the printing office was destroyed by fire, and with it the opening chapters of this work; fortunately a few pages had been set up, and the impression sent to a literary gentleman, then editor of a popular critical journal, and were thus saved from destruction; to him we are indebted . . ." "New York" was not printed separately until 1930, when a limited edition was published by W. F. Payson, with an introduction by D. R. Fox.

Reissued, without the titles of the separate issues and the advertisements, as follows:

The Spirit of the Fair. "None but the brave deserve the Fair."
Editorial Committee. Augustus R. Macdonough, Chairman [and nine others.] New York: John F. Trow, Publisher, 50 Greene Street. [1864?] 4to, pp. (4), 3–10, 15–22, 27–34, 39–46, 51–58, 63–70, 75–82, 87–94, 99–106, 111–118, 123–130, 135– 142, 147–154, 159–166, 171–178, 183–190, 195–206; Treasurer's Report, pp. 93. BA., M. 89497

Publisher's notice on second leaf: "By the request of many patrons of the 'Spirit of the Fair,' the publisher purchased the stereotype plates and copyrights of the paper, for the purpose of supplying bound copies for permanent preservation."

In order to use the plates of the Treasurer's Report, originally issued in octavo, four pages are printed on each leaf. There are some errors in the arrangement. Some copies were issued without the Treasurer's Report. AAS.

Spirit of the Fair for the Building Fund of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association, held at the Music Hall, from December 21 to 30, 1858. Boston: Printed by W. S. Damrell and F. C. Moore, 16 Devonshire Street. 1858. 4to, pp. (2), 4, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4. 2 plates, one of which is folded. AAS. 89497A

Originally issued in eight numbers, daily except Sunday, Dec. 21–29, 1858, reissued with title page as above, and in cloth covers lettered "B. Y. M. C. A. 1858."

An issue of the above at c. has, according to the printed card, the collation: 1 preliminary leaf, pp. 34, and plates.

The Spirit of the Farmers' Museum, and Lay Preacher's Gazette. Being a judicious selection of the fugitive and valuable productions, which have occasionally appeared in that paper, since the commencement of its establishment. Consisting of a part of the essays of the Lay Preacher, Colon and Spondee, American biography, the choicest efforts of the American muse, pieces of chaste humour, the easy essays of the Hermit, the most valuable part of the weekly summaries, nuts, epigrams, and epitaphs, sonnets, criticism, &c. &c. . . . Walpole, (N. H.) Printed, for Thomas & Thomas, by D. & T. Carlisle. 1801. 12mo, pp. 318, advertisements (3).

AAS., BU., CU., H., NYH., NYP. 89498

Spirit of the Lakes, and Boatman's Magazine. Edited by Rev. R. H. Leonard. Vol. 1. Sandusky City: Published for the Western Seamen's Friend Society. 1849. 4to, pp. (4), 188. c., NYH. 89500

Published monthly. AAS. has vol. 4, second quarter, no. 2, April, 1852, published in Cleveland with the title changed to "Spirit of the Lakes, and Boatmen's Reporter."

The Spirit of the Martyrs Revived, in a compendious Collection of the most remarkable passages and living testimonies of the True Church, Seed of God, and Faithful Martyrs in all ages, contained in several Ecclesiastical Histories, . . . Printed in the Year 1682. Re-Printed in the Year 1750. 4to, pp. (8), 283, 20. 89501

By Ellis Hookes, an English Friend. For the 1682 edition, and others, printed in England, see Joseph Smith's "Descriptive Catalogue of Friends' Books," 1867. The above title was supplied from a clipping of a sale catalogue and a manuscript note prepared by Joseph Sabin, who did not suggest a place of printing.

Sabin noted that the last twenty pages were an addition and contained "a short Account of some remarkable Persecutions in New England." It seems possible that the addition was not issued with the 1750 edition, but merely bound with the copy seen by Sabin, and was the same as the following title:

An Addition to the Book, entituled, The Spirit of the Martyrs Revived. It being a Short Account of some remarkable Persecutions in New-England; especially of four faithful martyrs of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, who suffered death at Boston. [n. p., 1758?] 8vo, pp. 20. c., v. At end: "Written in the year 1758. Joseph Bolles." As Bolles was one of the followers of John Rogers of New London, it seems probable the pamphlet was printed in Connecticut. Backus in his "Church History of New-England," vol. 2, 1784, p. 107, stated that in "1758 the Rogerenes published an abstract of the history of ancient persecutions in New-England, with high encomiums upon those Quakers who returned and were hanged at Boston, after they had been banished . . . and a reproof to their own society and others for their declension from that temper and spirit."

Spirit of the Martyrs revived in the Doctrines of the Reverend Mr. George Whitefield. See [Warne (Jonathan)].

Spirit of the XIX. Century, for 1842. By Robert J. Breckinridge. . . . Baltimore: Printed by R. J. Matchett, Corner of Gay & Lombard streets. 1842. 8vo, pp. v, 570. Continued.

B., C., NYH., P., PEAB., UP. 89502

A continuation of the "Baltimore Literary and Religious Magazine," which was published from 1835-1841, our no. 3001, vol. 1. Published monthly until Dec. 1843, when it was discontinued.

AAS. 89508

Published weekly.

This sporting journal has a most confusing history. Founded by William T. Porter in 1831, the above is the earliest number which has been located. A few months after its issue, Porter sold the paper to the firm of Hunt and Adams, publishers of the "New-York Traveller," who combined the two periodicals under the title of "The Traveller: Spirit of the Times and Life in New-York." It was later purchased and issued under a similar title by C. J. B. Fisher, and continued by Fisher and Inman. In January, 1835, the paper was again purchased by "Publishers" who stated that they had procured the services of Porter, the first editor. Under his editorship the title became first, "The New-York Spirit of the Times," but was soon changed to "Spirit of the Times." The name of Porter appears alone until January, 1842, when John Richards became the proprietor, though Porter continued as editor through August, 1856. In September of that year his place was taken by Edward E. Jones. Richards died in January, 1859, but Jones and others continued this series until June 22, 1861, vol. 31, no. 20.

In the meantime, Porter, on leaving the "Old Spirit," joined with George Wilkes in starting a similar weekly, entitled, "Porter's Spirit of the Times," the first issue being that for Sept. 6, 1856. Porter died in July, 1858, and later an interest was acquired by Abraham C. Dayton and a friend. As the result of a legal controversy with Wilkes, Dayton took possession of the paper. The last number of this series listed by the Union List is that for February 25, 1860. For Dayton's side of this controversy, see "Porter's Spirit," for Sept. 10, 1859.

Wilkes, after his quarrel with Dayton, started a third periodical, entitled "Wilkes' Spirit of the Times." In the first issue, for Sept. 10, 1859, he included under the copyright notice on p. 8, the following note: "This copyright is only to be operative against the publishers of Porter's Spirit of the Times, and its object is to prevent that paper from any longer appropriating the labors of my mind." In 1868, Wilkes changed the title of his paper to "The Spirit of the Times," which he called "resuming" its original title, and considering it the successor of that founded in 1831, with the issue of September 6, 1873, he gave up his own volume numbering, and called this number in accordance with Porter's original scheme, vol. 86, no. 4. This series continued until Dec. 13, 1902, when it was combined with the "Horseman."

For locations of files of these periodicals, see the Union List of Serials.

The preceding notes are made up chiefly from examination of the files at AAS., and the Union List. See also, Mott's "History of American Magazines," 1930, p. 480, and the catalogue of a sale at the American Art Association, Nov. 26, 1927, lot no. 164.

The Spiritual Magazine. . . . Vol. I. Putney, Vt., March 15, 1846. No. 1. [Colophon:] S. R. Leonard, Printer. 8vo, pp. 16.
H. 89516

Caption title. On p. 16: "The Spiritual Magazine is published by the Association of Perfectionists at Putney, Vt., on the 15th of every month . . ."

The magazine, through vol. 2, no. 12, Nov. 23, 1847, was published at Putney. Vol. 2, no. 13, August 5, 1848, was issued at Oneida Reserve, and included a letter to the subscribers explaining that the interval of nine months was due to the fact that the citizens of Putney had held an "indignation meeting" denouncing the publications of the Association as licentious, and requiring an immediate stoppage of the press. Beginning with vol. 3, 1850, the title became "Free Church Circular," which according to the Union List of Serials was in turn superseded by the "Circular," and the "Oneida Circular." For another magazine of a similar nature published at Putney, see below, "The Spiritual Moralist."
